FRENCH ELECTORS DEFEAT THE POINCARE PARTY

MISSING U.S. AVIATORS WALKED TO SAFETY

MARTIN AND HARVEY MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED DEATH WHEN AEROPLANE STRUCK MOUNTAIN IN ALASKA AND WILL COME SOUTH IN SHIP

U.S. World Flier and His Mechanician Walked From Scene of Disaster on Alaska Peninsula to Port Moller, Which Place They Will Leave To-morrow For Bellingham; While World Wondered as to Their Fate They Were Resting in a Lonely Trapper's Cabin; Machine Was Destroyed

Cordova, May 12.—Major Frederick L. Martin, who was in command of the U.S. round-the-world aeroplane flight, and his mechanic, Staff Sergt. A. H. Harvey, who have been missing since April 30, when they left Chignik, are safe at Port Moller, Alaska, a radio message having been received here from Major Martin.

The plane struck a mountain near Port Moller an hour and a half after the airmen had left Chignik, according to Major Martin's message. Although the machine was completely wrecked neither of the aviators was hurt.

Port Moller is 100 miles west of Chignik.

False Pass, Alaska, May 12.—Major Frederick L. Martin, United States world flight commander, whose plane was smashed against a mountain on the Alaska Peninsula April 30, intends to leave Port Moller, Alaska, to-morrow for the United States.

Word came here from Port Moller that Major Martin and Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, his mechanic, would be aboard the cannery tender Catherine D, of the Pacific-American Fisheries of Bellingham, Washington. The Catherine D is scheduled to leave a cannery at Port Moller to-morrow for Puget Sound.

UNABLE TO SEE

Major Martin's machine, the Seattle, which was the flag plane of the squadron of four that left Santa Monica, Cal., March 17, to fly around the world, hit the mountain in a blinding fog.

TO CALL AT NANAIMO

Bellingham, Wash., May 12.—The Catherine D, of the Pacific-American Fisheries fleet, will reach Bellingham from Port Moller, Alaska, about May 25, it was said to-day by the local offices of the company. Archie Shields, vice-president in charge of Alaska affairs, yesterday cabled an invitation to Major Martin to make the voyage on the company's vessel.

The Catherine D will stop at Nanaimo, B.C., for coal before docking here.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Cordova, Alaska, May 12 (Associated Press)—Miraculously escaping death when they crashed against a montain peak in a fog and completely wrecking the former flagplane Seattle, one of four United States globe-encircling air cruisers, Major Frederick L. Martin and his mechanic, Staff-Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, were safe to-day at Port Moller, 100 miles west of Chignik, on the Alaska Peninsula, according to a wireless message received here from that point by way of St. Paul Island.

The two American aviators, who emerged unscathed from the splintered parts of the plane on the mountainside, were forced down one hour and a half after leaving Chignik for Dutch Harbor, Unalaska Island, shortly before noon April 30 to rejoin their three companions.

LONG TRAMP ON FOOT

They rescued a few of their records and food rations from the debris and started on a long tramp down the mountainside toward the North Pacific Ocean shore line.

RESTED IN CABIN

After many hardships they finally reached a trapper's cabin on the southern tip of Port Moller Bay at 6 p.m. last Wednesday, where they obtained food and a warm place to sleep. They were utterly exhausted

PARTIES OPPOSING POINCARE GROUP ARE IN MAJORITY OF MORE THAN 100 AS RESULT OF POLLING HELD THROUGHOUT FRANCE SUNDAY

General Election Means Change in Handling of Foreign Affairs of Republic; Millerand is Expected to Resign as President; Radicals, With 186 Deputies, Will Be Strongest Single Party in New Chamber

Paris, May 12.—Nearly complete returns compiled at official headquarters up to one o'clock this afternoon show that France, in the general election yesterday, decided on a considerable change in domestic policy and on at least one important modification in the methods of handling her foreign affairs. Premier Poincare's majority in the Chamber of Deputies was swept away in a violent swing of the political pendulum toward the Left and the Bloc National, which formed the nucleus of that majority, was reduced to second rank among the party groups.

The Radical Party of former Premier Caillaux and Edouard Herriot, which was defeated by the National Bloc four years ago, again becomes the strongest group in the Chamber, with 186 votes, while the Socialists, whose greatest strength in preceding years was 101 in 1914, will number 111 in the new Chamber.

The Communists will have at least twenty-four seats, making the entire strength of the extreme Left of the Chamber 135.

Persons close to the Premier said there is no doubt that he will stand fast to his traditional procedure.

MILLERAND TO RESIGN

Ordinarily the President of the Republic would ask the Premier to remain in power until the new Chamber showed what its desires were, but President Millerand himself is involved in the disaster to the National Bloc. The President, it is predicted, will make good his threat to resign if the Nationalists were defeated. He cannot do so, however, until the Chamber is organized and the new Government installed.

FIGURES REPORTED

The final figures, lacking those for sixteen seats, as given officially at the Foreign Office, show the following elected:

Conservatives 19, National Bloc 208, Radicals 186, Republican Socialists 20, Socialists 11, Communists 24. Total 568.

Opposition 341, Poincare party 227, opposition majoirty 114.

The Government claims that forty-nine out of the 186 Radicals elected will vote with the Government in matters of foreign policy. Even if this is correct, however, the Government will still remain in minority.

ERROR CORRECTED

A disrepancy between previous semi-official figures showing the Republic Soicalists elected thirty-two members and the official figures giving them twenty is explained by the fact of the close affiliation of this group with the Radical Socialists, the Foreign Office classifying its members somewhat differently than the semi-official agency. They are all, however, against the Government.

GAINS AND LOSSES

The gains and losses computed at 12.30 to day were as follows:

Conservatives gained 2, lost 17.

Republicans (Left) gained 12, lost 74.

Radicals (Independent) gained 9, lost 23.

Radicals (Socialist) gained 61, lost 15.

Republican Socialists gained 12, lost 8.

Communists gained 21, lost 7.

DIFFICULTIES

Before an arrangement can be made between the United Socialists and the Radical Socialists, the former must agree to support M. Herriot unqualifiedly. For their part the United Socialists will insist upon most important representation in the National Cabinet and their demands may prove unacceptable to Herriot.

Well-known deputies re-elected were Andre Fallieres, son of the former President; Louis Klotz, former Finance Minister, and Louis Dubers, former President of the Rehabilitation Committee.

BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

Paris, May 12 (Canadian Press Cable)—While it is premature to say France will soon have a radical government, the results of yesterday's

ALL PARTIES RUSH PLANS FOR ELECTION; MINISTERS SCATTER TO OWN RIDINGS

With only six weeks to complete their election plans, politicians of all parties are rushing their preparations for the poll.

Members of the Government are scattering to their own constituencies to confer with their own supporters while Premier Oliver is mapping out a speaking itinerary which will take him to almost every riding in the Province before election day, June 20.

Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, left last night for Yale, where he was nominated recently. Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, started for the north of the Province this afternoon to accept the Omineca nomination on May 22. Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, will go to Nanaimo Wednesday to address his first campaign meeting on that evening. Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, will go to Abbotsford to-morrow in preparation for his nominating convention there Wednesday night. Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, already in the northern ridings. Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, has not completed his own campaign plans yet.

The Premier has decided not to swing into the interior this week as he had planned. Instead he will spend the week on the Coast and leave for the up-country ridings next Sunday night. He will attend Mr. Barrow's nominating convention in Abbotsford on Wednesday evening, and will speak in Delta Thursday and New Westminster Friday. Before going into the interior he will return here Saturday to clear his desk.

NO MANIFESTO YET

When Mr. Oliver will issue the Government's election manifesto has not been decided yet. Since announcing the election date Saturday the Premier has been so busy with routine business that he has had little time for party affairs. It is understood, however, that he has the manifesto partially prepared already.

The political pot will begin to boil here in real earnest shortly. Plans for a vigorous campaign in support of its nominees are being shaped by the Liberal Association now, and will be announced shortly.

PAULINE TO SPEAK

Political activities are speeding up in the outlying districts. Hon. F. A. Pauline, Liberal candidate in Saanich, will speak in Strawberry Vale Hall on Wednesday evening, when he will be supported by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance. Saanich Liberals have opened campaign headquarters at 3600 Douglas Street, telephone 3006.

Esquimalt Conservatives will meet May 19 to nominate their candidate. It is understood that Reeve Lockley of Esquimalt, will seek the nomination in place of R. H. Pooley, the sitting member. John Jardine also is regarded as a possible nominee.

RECORD WEATHER DRAWS THOUSANDS TO CITY BEACHES

Midsummer Scenes Are Witnessed Here in May

Hottest Day Yesterday and Warmer Weather Predicted

May blossomed with all the brilliance and sunshine of midsummer for Victorians and the many visitors in Victoria yesterday. For the third Sunday this year all the pleasures of midsummer were enjoyed by thousands of people who flocked to the beaches and parks in and outside of the city. Street cars were filled with picnic parties, both Saturday and Sunday, and May 24, which usually announces the opening of the Summer and picnic season in Victoria will this year only come when Summer joys have already been in order for several weeks.

THEIR FIRST DIP

Some of the beaches Saturday and Sunday were lined with youngsters as thickly as they are during the long summer vacation. Hundreds took their first dip of the season and pronounced the water perfect for bathing. The Gorge, where the water is more suited for those who desire the warm water for swimming rather than a brisk invigorating deep which the more hardy bathers enjoy, was visited by hundreds of swimmers. Scores of youngsters disported at "the free," and members of the swimming clubs enjoyed themselves at the club quarters and voted the water at as good a temperature for swimming as at any time during the year.

WILL SET ADVANCE IN MILL RATE

Government Has no Legal Power to Give Assistance

Council Will be Forced to Face Difficult Financial Position

The city tax rate will advance five mills when the rate is struck by the adoption of the expenditure by-law in City Council this evening.

The Provincial Government, Premier Oliver informs Mayor Hayward, does not find any legal way in which it can meet the request of the city for a supplementary vote towards the construction of Johnson Street Bridge, and a grant in aid for exempted properties due to the provincial buildings being located here. Mr. Oliver says the matter has been submitted to the Comptroller General and the Deputy Attorney General, and they hold out no hope of any legal way of making a vote without sanction of the legislature.

If the council should adopt the report from the special estimates committee appointed on May 1, about one mill will be cut off the estimates as tentatively approved by the council. The actual levy will be about the same as in 1923, but the mill rate will go up owing to reduction in the assessment, and the reversions of land to the city in the meantime. The increased call for fixed charges, which has absorbed all the economies effected by the departments, and the aldermanic endeavors, are due to the city having to assume the whole cost of widening schemes, the Johnson Street Bridge, the refunding loans for local improvements, and similar calls.

The increase in the mill rate would have been larger if it had not been that there is a substantial increase in the potential revenue, chiefly from enhanced trade license fees.

AEMILIUS JARVIS TO APPEAR IN COURT

Bond Dealer, Son and Manager Were Arrested in Toronto; All Out on Bail

Charge is Result of Investigation of Finances of Province

Toronto, May 12—Aemilius Jarvis, Jr., of the bond firm of that name, and their manager, Harry Pepall, were arrested this afternoon on charges of conspiracy to defraud. The defendants were taken to detective headquarters. The charges arise out of the recent investigation by the Public Accounts Committee of the Ontario Legislature, which also resulted in the arrest of Peter Smith, former Provincial Treasurer.

Bail of $50,000 for Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., was provided, while for the younger Jarvis the sum of $25,000 was provided. Harry Pepall was later released on $50,000 bail.

The defendants will appear in police court to-morrow morning.

TWELVE KILLED IN GERMAN CLASHES

Monarchist Throng of 25,000 Staged a Demonstration Yesterday at Halle

Policeman Killed at Halle And Eleven Communists at Boelleberg

Berlin, May 12—Fighting as a sequel to the monarchist demonstration at Halle yesterday is reported from the nearby town of Boelleberg, where eleven Communists are said to have been killed and a number wounded.

Halle is known as the centre of German Communism, and the monarchists yesterday seized the opportunity afforded by the restoration of the restored Von Moltke monument to stage a demonstration of great magnitude.

LUDENDORF THERE

Headed by General Ludendorff and a score of former army and navy leaders, a Fascist army, estimated to number 25,000 men, most of them from Bavaria, the stronghold of the Nationalists, marched into the city. The only approach to violence in or about Halle proper reported in dispatches received here was a clash between police and Communists on the outskirts of the city. A policeman was killed and five were seriously wounded by snipers.

A POLITICAL MOVE

The muster of German Chauvinists was primarily intended to remind political opponents throughout Germany of the Nationalistic renaissance. Not since the Great War has Germany witnessed an equally re-

Winnipeg Thief Left a Note in House He Robbed

Winnipeg, May 12.—Police to-day are looking for a thief who Saturday night left a sarcastic note of warning in a house which he had robbed. "Keep your windows locked after this," said the note, which was found on a dining-room table.

The thief stole $10.

Cardinal Mercier Is Honored on His Golden Jubilee

Malines, Belgium, May 12—Thousands of persons from Brussels and Antwerp and other parts of Belgium gathered in this little town to-day and attended the celebration of the golden jubilee of Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium. The entire royal family of Belgium, wishing to honor the prelate, attended the ceremony in a body.

OPPOSITION HAS WON VICTORY IN JAPANESE GENERAL ELECTION OVER PREMIER KIYOURI'S PARTY

Tokio, May 12.—With returns in from all but thirty-nine seats, the Opposition is assured of a substantial majority in the Lower House of the Diet over the Kiyoura Cabinet.

Three parties pledged to fight the present Cabinet, the Kenseikai, Seiyukai and Kaku Club, have already secured 260 seats in the House of 464. It seems unlikely the Government supporters, including the Seiyuhonto and Businessmen's Parties and the majority of the Independents, will muster more than 170 seats in the new House.

With the Opposition victory virtually a landslide, attention is being focussed on Premier Kiyoura's intentions. Home Minister Mizuno, who is urging the Premier to hold to office, was closeted with Marquis Saionji, one of the Elder Statesmen, this morning, and was understood to have asked him to approve fo another dissolution of the Diet. It is not believed, however, that the aged autocrat will dare to countenance such a move in face of the proved unpopularity of the Kiyoura Cabinet.

The election results late this evening were:

Kenseikai, 142; Seiyukai, 89; Kakushini Club, 29; Seiyuhonto, 102; Businessmen's Party, 9; Independents, 54.

The Kenseikai will be the largest party in the new House even if the Seiyuhonto captures all the remaining thirty-nine seats.

LOST STRENGTH

The figures show the Government suffered the most crushing defeat received by any Cabinet in the last quarter of a century. Whereas, as a rule the Government nearly always wins, in this case Kiyoura, by resorting to dissolution and a new election actually lost parliamentary strength.

Political leaders declare the Cabinet's resignation is inevitable, but will await the completion of the state celebration of the Prince Regent's wedding, which will end June 4.

London Police Who Struck Not To be Reinstated

London, May 12.—The appeals made last week to Arthur Henderson, Home Secretary, for the reinstatement of the members of the London police force who went on strike in 1919 because of the order forbidding the formation of police trade unions have been refused. Numerous organizations urged the Home Secretary, who is directly responsible for the control of London's police, to have the strikers taken back on the force, and after several days' consideration of the matter the Minister decided against the men.

35,000 Aucklanders Visited Great Battlecruiser Hood

Auckland, N.Z., May 12 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—A remarkable scene was witnessed on the waterfront here yesterday when 35,000 people assembled for their first public view of the battlecruiser H.M.S. Hood, of the British Special Service Squadron, now on a cruise around the Empire. Thousands stormed the Hood's gangway, but the police finally succeeded in restoring order.

The ship was promptly closed to the public and this was followed by good-humored badinage on the part of the crowd. Many women in the crowd fainted and mothers with children were crushed, but no one was seriously hurt.

Thousands Of Deaths In India Caused By Cholera

London, May 12 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Daily Telegraph's Allahabad correspondent says the cholera epidemic which has been raging in several sections of India has broken out in the state of Mysore, where there were 696 cases, with 391 deaths, last week.

The epidemic in Bihar, where there have been 10,000 deaths since the beginning of the year, is abating. In most of the districts where cholera has been raging, including Champaran, Darbhango, Mizaffarpur and Haran, the situation is fairly well in hand, except in Champaran, where the deaths number 200 daily.

Better Health to Millions All in One Year!

JUST one year ago Post's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat was introduced as a delicious laxative food. Today millions of people are enjoying better health, are doing better work, enjoying more their play as a direct result of its daily use.

Millions! And all in one year!

Because Post's Bran Flakes has all the laxative effect of bran and most of the food value of wheat; because it is wonderfully delicious—the flakes are thin, crisp, toasted—to these reasons can such tremendous national popularity be attributed.

You, yourself, if you are one of those who have never tried it, will be amazed that a food of such wonderful flavor and welcome effectiveness could be produced. Try it! Use it regularly for a week or so. You can get it from your grocer. Be sure you see the name "Post's Bran Flakes" on the package. It is the mark of a product made by the maker's of the world's finest cereal foods.

DEFENCE MINISTER TO EXPLAIN ACTION

Mayor is Told He Will State in Writing Dominion Government's Position

Hon. E. M. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence, has telegraphed to Mayor Hayward that he is writing full particulars with regard to the decision of the Federal Government not to give a direct donation to the fund to entertain the British Special Service Squadron when it arrives here next month.

Mayor Hayward, as official representative, had wired to Mr. Macdonald and also to Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, voicing the local disappointment at the purport of the message received Friday afternoon, and published fully in Saturday's issue of The Times.

The telegrams were almost identical in tone, and asked the Government to reconsider its decision, pointing out that the parallel drawn with Halifax and Quebec, as with Vancouver, did not apply, because Victoria is the only Canadian port at which the whole of the fleet will be seen.

Alderman Harvey, chairman of the local entertainment committee, expresses the hope that more financial support is essential if the present programme of entertainment is to be carried out in anything like its present details.

C.P.R. OFFICIALS THANKED FOR CARE GIVEN LOCAL BOY

Canadian Pacific officials here have received a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Emily M. Norman, of Bradford, England, announcing the safe arrival in the Old Country of her nephew, Eric Smith, eleven-year-old Victoria boy, who traveled from Vancouver Island to Liverpool as the ward of the railway company. The conductors of the Ss. Montrose, on which ship the small boy crossed the Atlantic, took the place of a careful mother to the child, Mrs. Norman's letter says, and the conductors and stewards of the dining cars acted as indulgent fathers, which was doubly appreciated by the boy's relatives on account of his delicate health at the time of his journey.

ALL PARTIES RUSH PLANS FOR ELECTION

Esquimalt, on Saturday. Captain R. P. Matheson, M.C., was the only nominee, and was unanimously selected as the party candidate.

VANCOUVER PROSPECTS

As the election date approaches the probable personnel of the candidates in Vancouver is emerging more and more into the realm of certainty. At the present time four or five men on both slates are not at all difficult to guess and the others will come from a fairly narrow group.

Here is how the Government slate will probably look when convention time rolls around:

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., Ian Mackenzie, Mrs. M. E. Smith, Charles Woodward, Eric Hambler and Dr. R. E. McKechnie.

There is still some doubt about all of the last three being willing to accept nominations, Mr. McKechnie in particular being especially reluctant, but strong pressure is being brought to bear on all of them.

On the Conservative side, present indications are that the ticket will be as follows:

W. J. Bowser, K.C., W. C. Shelly, J. P. D. Malkin, J. B. Thomson, Dr. Frank Patterson and R. L. Maitland.

INTO THE COUNTRY

Travel on the interurban line was not as heavy as in midsummer, but it is estimated that nearly 1,000 people journeyed to the many beauty spots along the Saanich peninsular, a number far in excess of the usual total at this time of the year. The British Columbia Electric Railway Company also reports extra heavy traffic on the Oak Bay, Uplands, Willows and Foul Bay beaches and to the Gorge.

May this year promises to be a record breaking one Napier Denison of the Meteorological Observatory reports. Yesterday the highest temperature was 77, the hottest day of the year. Last year the highest temperature in May was only 67 and on May 11 and 12 the temperature only reached 56. The remarkable feature yesterday was the unusually warm night. The thousands who visited the beaches and parks were able to enjoy themselves until 10 o'clock without the usual chill of evening, the thermometer only falling to 69 at that hour.

MORE HOT WEATHER

Victoria can look for two more days of this glorious weather, and with the wind in the north the temperature may rise to 80. This morning at 6 o'clock it stood at 60 and by 9 o'clock had climbed to 70 and was still climbing.

The weather here is typical of the surrounding country. In Kamloops yesterday the temperature reached 86, at Nelson 82, Spokane 88 and at other places in Eastern Washington it reaches 90. At Portland the temperature yesterday reached 88.

As the atmosphere is unusually dry Mr. Denison sounds a warning against fires, which are so easily started. People at the beaches yesterday were able to discern at least seven fires over the Olympics, two of which were large ones.

Three Prospectors Burned to Death

Stewart, B.C., May 12.—Three well-known prospectors, Sam Fry, William Murphy and Fred Dorey of Stewart were found burned to death in a shack last week, according to news which reached Stewart Sunday. The men were known in mining circles on the coast and in Vancouver.

The three were in a board covered tent on Murphy's claim in the Thumb Creek district, twelve miles from Stewart.

It is supposed they went into the shack cold and tired, built a big fire and were asleep when the shack caught fire.

MARTIN AND HARVEY MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED DEATH

as a result of the seven-day tramp under sever weather conditions and they rested three days in the cabin. On Saturday the fliers, feeling refreshed in mind and body, walked to the beach and were able to flash the first message of their safety to the world early yesterday after having been reported missing ten days.

Only "nerve and concentrated food rations" saved their lives, said the brief message broadcast from Port Moller.

Nothing in the message indicated, as it was understood here, how many miles Major Martin was from Port Moller when his machine was wrecked. This, it was not known here to-day how many miles he and Sergt. Harvey forced their way through the wilderness. They were at least a week lost.

South of Port Moller Bay, the peninsula is only twenty-five miles across to the Pacific Ocean, the bay being a branch of Bering Sea, on the north side of the peninsula. The country is still under snow and no food is to be found.

OTHERS TO PROCEED

The three remaining planes of the expedition, under command of Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, reached Attu Island last Friday night, and, acording to latest advices, were awaiting a favorable moment to make the jump of 878 miles across the Bering Sea to Paramashire Island, in the Kuriles, at the north end of the Japanese Empire. The hop is the longest in the 27,000-mile circuit of the earth being made by the fleet.

ALWAYS CONFIDENT

San Diego, May 12.—Notified Major F. L. Martin was safe at Port Moller, Alaska, Mrs. Martin, his wife, said here:

"I was supremely confident that my husband was alive and well in spite of what all the world might believe to the contrary. I never doubted for a moment that I would hear from him eventually.

"Of course, I am delighted to get definite word of his safety and health, but my faith in his welfare has never wavered night or day.

"I believe I am the happiest person in San Diego. I received an unsigned radio message from Cordova at 8 o'clock this (Sunday) morning, telling me my husband was safe."

BRITISH CONGRATULATIONS

London, May 12 — Officials of the British Air Ministry sent congratulations to the United States Embassy to-day upon receipt of the news that Major Martin of the United States world flight party, and his assistant, Sergt. Harvey, had been found.

BACK TO WASHINGTON

Washington, May 12—Major Frederick L. Martin and his mechanic, Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, will be ordered to Washington direct from Port Moller, Alaska, where they arrived safely after their aeroplane had been wrecked and they had been missing for eleven days in the wilds of Alaska.

MAJ. F. L. MARTIN

The two aviators will be assigned to duty in the army air service headquarters temporarily, but their names will be kept on the list of the round-the-world fliers, in compliment to the men and in recognition of the hardships they have endured in valiantly attempting to keep the squadron in the globe encircling flight.

Meanwhile, the three other planes will continue their way around the world under command of Lieut Lowell H. Smith, senior officer in the absence of Major Martin.

The plans of the Air Service also will permit Major Martin to keep the designation of commanding officer of the flight, Lieut. Smith's title being that of acting officer in charge

TO LEAD WAY HOME

It is intended to send Major Martin and Sergeant Harvey across the Atlantic in time to greet the fliers and lead them on the way home from Europe, in that way giving the commander the post of honor which he lost by hard luck in Alaska.

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRY—STOVE MAKERS FOR 50 YEARS

THERE is a certain amount of sentiment in buying a Camp Stove, Range or anything else from this Foundry.

Why?

Because by doing so you help to support a home industry and by supporting a home industry you help to support your community.

whether the state authorities have taken adequate measures to confine foot and mouth disease to the State. If Mr. Mackenzie is not satisfied with California's precautions new and more drastic measures will be imposed here, Mr. Motherwell stated.

Mr. Motherwell's decision to send Mr. Mackenzie to California follows the vigorous representations made by Mr. Barrow, who urged a complete embargo on all foodstuffs grown in areas affected by foot and mouth disease.

"Mr. Motherwell's statement is satisfactory to me and appears to clear up the situation," Mr. Barrow stated to-day.

Man Arrested Is Not Identified As Train Robber

Vancouver, May 12 — Lloyd Cole, who was arrested and held as a suspect in connection with the recent Great Northern train robbery, will, it is thought, be released. In a lineup which was held at headquarters several of the passengers who were present at the holdup were unable positively to identify Cole as the masked man who robbed two persons on the train.

general election so far show a reverse for Premier Poincare's party and a success for the parties on the Left that probably surpasses their expections.

FORGETTING WAR EVENTS

One outstanding result already visible is that war records are no longer a preponderant factor in French politics. Former Minister of the Interior Malvey, who was banished during the war for five years, was returned to the Chamber, carrying his ticket with him, while General de Castelnau, victor of the Grand Couronne and the saviour of Nancy in 1914, was beaten.

ANDRE MARTY WON

Andre Marty, Communist, imprisoned for surrendering his ship to the Bolshevists in the Black Sea, was elected in Seine-et-Oise, while Jean Longuet, grandson of Karl Marx, was also returned. Longuet made a lecture tour in the United States in 1922.

Andre Lefvbre, former Minister of V[illegible] Joachim Murat, descend[illegible] of Naples, and Gaston Vidal, former Minister of Physi[illegible] were among the other prominent men defeated, while former Ministers Reibel and and Colrat and Franklin-Bouillon, negotiator of the Angora Treaty, were successful.

MINISTERS RE-ELECTED

Of the Poincare Cabinet, the "Ruhr Ministers" Maginet and Letrocquet were returned, as was Minister of Justice Duprey and Minister of Liberated Regions Marin, and the return of Minister of Agriculture Capus and Minister of Hygiene Daniel-Vincent is probable. Raoul Peret President of the Chamber, was also re-elected.

CACHIN ELECTED

Marcel Cachin, the Communist leader, was successful. Commandant Brocard, leader of France's most famous aerial squadron, in which Captain Georges Guynemer and Lieut. Navarre starred during the war, was elected in Paris, and Sadi Lecointe, another flying ace, was defeated.

Former Premier Painleve and former Premier Leygues were among those re-elected. Leon Daudet, the royalist leader, was defeated.

FRANC IS WEAKER

Paris, May 12 (Canadian Press)

Paris, May 12 (Canadian Press Cable)—This morning's remarkable jump of the pound sterling from 73 to 78 francs and the dollar from 16.75 to over 18 francs shows that in the money market here, following the general election in France, there is sense of a political change brewing.

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 12.—Preliminary to the opening of the market here today the French franc was quoted at 5.61 for demand, a drop of 44 points from Saturday's close. The decline was attributed to the heavy gain of the Socialists in the French general election.

SAYS HE KILLED IN SELF-DEFENCE

Aged Miner Tells Nelson Jury W. Brown Was Battering at His Door

Nelson, May 12.—"He was going to get me and the boys if I did not get him first," R. A. Brown, aged miner, told a coroner's jury at Grand Forks Saturday in explaining the shooting of William Brown, who, armed and drunk, was battering in his door when shot late Friday night. Earlier in the evening William Brown threatened the life of Carl Jepson at Lynch Creek, witness stated, and later started for his nephew and a Doukhobor boy, the boys taking refuge from him in the cabin of the eighty-year-old miner. The inquest was adjourned.

AT COLOGNE FAIR "DEUTSCHLAND" WAS SUNG BY GERMANS

Cologne, May 12.—The Cologne Fair, which may become the most important of all in Germany, was opened on Sunday by President Ebert.

The President in a speech adopted a strongly patriotic attitude. The gist of his remarks was that the Ruhr and Rhineland always must remain German. After the President concluded, three "hochs" were given him and the whole assemblage, led by an orchestra, sang "Deutschland Uber Alles," which song is prohibited throughout the occupied territory.

VOTE TO-MORROW ON McKENNA DUTIES

British Commons Will Express Its Will on Governments Plan to Repeal Tariff Rates

London, May 12.—The agitation against the repeal of the McKenna duties is being continued by the politicians, manufacturers, affected workers and the hostile press in view of the debate in the Commons to-morrow, when Stanley Baldwin's motion of censure will occupy the House.

Mr. Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to-day received a delegation which appealed on behalf of 30,000 motor trade workers for retention of the duties, but he has shown no sign of weakening in his determination to sweep away the duties on August 1 in accordance with his budget announcement.

To Mr. Baldwin's motion, Major-General J. E. B. Seely, Liberal, plans to move an amendment proposing that two years' notice be given before the duties are abrogated. This is likely to have the support of a section of the Liberals, and perhaps some Laborites, but all indications are that the Government will come through triumphantly, although its majority may be comparatively small.

THREE INDIANS DROWNED

Port Arthur, Ont., May 12.—Louis English, a trapper of the Long Lac Band of Indians, his wife and three-year-old child, were drowned Wednesday last in Devil Fish Rapids, ten miles down the Kenogami River from Long Lac. SAYS GREAT GAME PLAYED IN BRITAIN

Frank Hodges Declares Labor Ministry Leading Government of World

London, May 12 (Canadian Press Cable)—Frank Hodges, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, speaking in Wiltshire on Saturday, concerning Lord Curzon's occupancy of the Foreign Office in the two former Ministries, described him as a typical example of the aristocracy, a real blueblood, proud, arrogant, aloof and distant, who was regarded by Conservative institutions as the backbone of all that was orderly and progressive.

For three years, said Mr. Hodges, Lord Curzon outlawed the great nation of Russia and kept her from the family of nations, but Premier MacDonald recognized Russia at once.

"It is a wonderful game we are playing," exclaimed Hodges. "We number only 192 out of 600, yet we are the greatest government in the world, made up of men from the railways, mines and desks. The country is no longer run by the sons of those God-given persons who claimed alone to possess the capacity to govern."

OTTAWA MOURNS ITS LATE MAYOR

Henry Watters Died Saturday; Was in His Seventy-First Year

Ottawa, May 12.—This city is in mourning for its late Mayor, Henry Watters, who died Saturday afternoon of an illness brought on last March by an attack of ptomaine poisoning. The Mayor was in his seventy-first year.

Although his illness in March was not considered serious, it was thought best that he give up official duties in order that he might rest. He grew steadily worse until a few days ago, when his condition was reported serious.

Mayor Watters served only two months in office, to which he was elected at the first of the year. He was a druggist in the city for more than fifty years, and at the time of his death conducted one of Ottawa's largest drug stores.

In addition to his municipal duties, Mayor Watters was president of the Eastern Ontario branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada.

Important Radio Improvement in Illinois Reported

Urbana, Ill., May 12.—Radio transmission without carrier waves has been successfully demonstrated by the University of Illinois radio station and further experiments are under way.

Under the present system of broadcasting, the carrier wave conveys all manner of sounds which often become audible sounds in the receiver, interfering with perfect reception.

With the new device only the modulated sound frequencies are broadcast and these, according to the college scientists, are devoid of the carrier wave tendency to pick up extraneous noises.

CALLS ATTENTION TO SOFT WOOD OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

B.C. Possesses More Than Half of Canada's Supply

Name of Hemlock Declared Serious Handicap

C. Loren Brown, Provincial Timber Commissioner, calls attention to the fact in an article in The Canadian Gazette that the rapid depletion of the most available soft wood supplies of the world is centering attention on those of British Columbia. This Province, he points out, possesses more than half of Canada's commercial soft woods, and more, he urges, should be known in the United Kingdom of British Columbia timbers.

"All of the sources on the Americana Continent from which the United Kingdom draws its soft wood supplies, with the exception of those on the Pacific Coast, are each year yielding a smaller lumber cut," he states.

"The great lumber-producing centres in Northern America have in the past fifty years moved by successive stages from East to West, until to-day British Columbia possesses, together with the Pacific and North-western United States, the last great stand of soft woods in America from which an increasing annual lumber cut is possible. A recent United States Government bulletin states that "four-fifths of the original Southern pine is gone," and recently a similar authority said that by 1930 the Southern pine region would not be able to produce enough lumber to supply its own needs. All of this brings us to the fact that more should be known in the United Kingdom of our British Columbia timbers.

DOUGLAS FIR

"Douglas fir has no superior as a structural wood. The United States Forest Products Laboratories recommend equal working stresses for Douglas fir and pitch pine. Douglas fir, however, is much lighter in weight than Southern pine, a distinct advantage in shipping and erecting. As to durability, the same authority rates the two woods as practically equal as regards heart wood, but as Southern pine logs are much smaller in diameter than Douglas fir, the timbers carry more sap wood unless heart wood is specified, and so are less durable, as the sap wood of all species has comparatively low durability. The ring of sap wood on Douglas fir is unusually thin, a fact which makes it a simple matter to get structural timbers of 100 per cent heart face.

"For interior finish Douglas fir, since it does not contain so much resin, is much superior to Southern or pitch pine, as it yields much better results when stained. Douglas fir doors are very largely used in the United Kingdom, and the use of it for general joinery purposes must of necessity increase rapidly, as the Pacific Coast of America is becoming the only source from which large supplies of clear soft woods are obtainable. Rift-sawn clear Douglas fir is especially suitable for flooring. Douglas fir three-ply veneer is becoming very popular for door panels and interior panelling. It is laid up in wateproof glue and will not warp. B.C. cottonwood ply-wood is also very suitable for these uses.

BRITISH COLUMBIA HEMLOCK

"The name of this timber has been a serious handicap in those markets which have used the hemlock grown in Eastern Canada, to which it is eminently superior. British Columbia hemlock is an entirely different species. It is the Western wood most suitable to replace the yellow Canadian or white pine which has been used in such large quantities in this market. It is being adopted by many users in America who find the price of white pine prohibitive.

"This wood is used principally in America for roofing shingles and for weather boarding, for which its great durability makes it specially suitable. The wood is rather soft and therefore not serviceable where exposed to severe usage. Where it is not so exposed, however, it is very valuable for interior finish and therefore has been used to a considerable extent in decorative ceilings, is obtainable in large clear sizes, is easily worked, has a quiet grain, and quickly mellows down to a restful pleasing effect of refinement and taste. British Columbia cedar is also used in the manufacture of sash and doors, boats and canoes.

EXHIBITIONS OF B.C. TIMBERS

"In order to acquaint the timber purchasers in the United Kingdom more fully with the lumber industry of British Columbia and with its various products, the Provincial Government, in co-operation with the lumber, shingle, box and veneer manufacturers, has installed an exhibit at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, which will display in a finished state all of those products for which it is thought a market can be found, not only in the United Kingdom, but also in other parts of the Empire."

WHY "ANIMAL ANTHRAX" SOMETIMES TROUBLES MAN

By Royal S. Copeland, M.D.

Occasionally the newspapers tell about a case or perhaps several cases of anthrax being found in some locality.

Fortunately, in this country anthrax is not common. Epidemics of anthrax have not infrequently occurred in England. Investigation has proved that in most instances over there the infection has come from the water supply. Water in which hair, wool and hides had been washed was thrown into streams forming the water supply of certain towns. In this way the anthrax germs were carried to human bodies.

Anthrax is of animal origin. Man becomes infected only through handling a diseased animal or the hide of that animal. On this account we find anthrax most commonly among fur workers.

A bruised or scratched surface is the means of entry of the vicious germs. Soon after exposure a pus-filled pimple forms at the infected point. Itching, increasing redness and swelling of the spot, with red lines beneath the skin and shooting pains in the locality, are among the first symptons of anthrax.

Other early symptoms are weakness, chilliness or a more pronounced chill, headache, thirst, restlessness, sometimes vomiting, disturbed sleep and perhaps a mild delirium. The latter symptoms vary according to the localization of the disease. If it is in the stomach there may be persistent vomiting. If it is in the intestines, diarrhea may be the conspicuous sympton. If it is in the lungs the attack may resemble pneumonia. In any case there may be convulsions and unconsciousness.

From 1901 to 1903 statistics show that there were 150,000 cases of anthrax in European Russia, 1,500 in Germany and 2,000 in Italy. In most cases these infections were traced to horsehair or hides brought from Northern Siberia, China and South America. These figures show what ravages have been wrought by the disease.

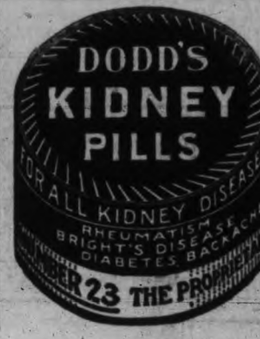
The spores or seers of anthrax may be dried up for years and then brought into a stage of development where they can do their evil work. They thrive if placed in favorable conditions of heat and moisture. If, in this state, they are transferred to animals, they may develop the disease.

It is also thought probable, although the fact is not fully established, that the anthrax germs may exist and develop in warm marshes, banks of streams and such places, and be carried by high water up to near-by pasture lands where they infect the animals.

Because of the official inspection of hides and objects made from hides and hair brought into the United States, anthrax is a rare disease in this country.

WILL GO TO VANCOUVER

Nanaimo, May 12—A communication was received at the last meeting of the Nanaimo School Board from C. Drummond Hay, of the British Special Service Squadron Entertainment Committee, of Victoria. It was explained that the squadron would visit Victoria from June 21 to June 25, and asked that if the Board contemplated sending down local school children, their number be forwarded to the committee, so that arrangements could be made for including them in the Victoria school brigades which would visit the fleet. In view of the fact that the fleet are to visit Vancouver early in July, that school examinations will be finished by then, and that transportation would be much cheaper to Vancouver, it was decided by the Board that if a visit is to be arranged for local school children, it will be to Vancouver, and the secretary will write Vancouver for further particulars.



Modern Galleons with Cargoes of Liquid Gold—

Gone are the days when stately treasure galleons, with ballast of silver and cargoes of gold and emeralds, set sail for impoverished Spain with their rich loot from the storehouses of the Incas.

In their stead a merchant fleet, flying Canadian colors, now transports from Peru a richer treasure of petroleum—developed by Canadian capital for the service of the motorists of Canada.

Across the limitless expanse of the Pacific, mere specks upon a thousand leagues of blue, plies a fleet of modern merchantmen—Imperial Oil Tankers. In their holds these twentieth-century galleons carry liquid gold—one of the very few crude oils in the world from which it is possible to obtain a perfect motor lubricant.

This matchless crude from the land of the Incas, is exclusively controlled by Imperial Oil Limited. It is refined by perfect mechanical equipment and the utmost care is taken to preserve all those natural qualities of excellence for which it is noted.

One of the five grades of Imperial Polarine Motor Oils, made from Peruvian crude, exactly meets the lubricating requirements of the car you drive—no matter what make or model.

Today:—Have your crankcase cleaned and refilled with the proper grade of Imperial Polarine Motor Oils. Then note how differently your car runs and you will understand why we go to the trouble and expense of bringing this oil thousands of miles across the seas to you.

DISSOLUTION

DISSOLUTION of the British Columbia Legislature and the announcement of a general election on June 20 comes as no surprise as the members of the Government during the last few weeks have been giving frank indications that they considered the time had come to appeal to the country for endorsation of their work and policies of the last three and one-half years.

The chief issue in the campaign will be the record of the Government. This is a record of conscientious and hard work on the part of the Premier and his ministers. The finances of the Province have been piloted through a particularly difficult and hazardous period following the war and British Columbia on a sound basis is enabled to face the era of better times which is dawning. The resources of the Province have been carefully guarded for the future good of the people. British Columbia has been kept at the very front of the Provinces of Canada in social legislation, such as that having to do with mothers' pensions and workmen's compensation, but at the same time has conservatively resisted all temptation towards radical experiments. The organization of a system of handling the sale of liquor along the lines voted for by the people has been ably carried out. Industrial conditions in the Province as a whole are good and unemployment of a serious nature has disappeared altogether. All these will be factors in determining the attitude of the voters towards the Government.

Against the Government is an opposition that is split into two factions, neither with any concrete policy. Each has taken its turn in attacking the Government. The session before last the opposition in the House under Mr. Bowser was most colorful in its assault on the liquor administration. All sorts of sensational charges were made before the public accounts committee of the Legislature, but as has been the case during the last eight years, with charges emanating from that source, none of them was made to stick. The result has been that during the last year there has been no attack on the liquor administration; and because of the satisfaction of the public the whole question has passed out of the realm of party politics.

At the time of the last session it was the Third Party that monopolized attention with violent attacks on the Government in connection with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, which was a bothersome load handed down by the former Conservative Government. A Royal Commission was granted as requested. The ridiculous showing which the Third Party made before this Commission and its complete failure to prove any of its charges are fresh in the minds of the people.

The attack of the divided opposition forces is now centred on the taxation question. In common with all countries, especially those participating in the Great War, taxes here are higher now than they were a decade ago. But for this condition the Government charged with the administration of the business of the country cannot be held to blame. It has required courage at times to adopt a sound policy of paying and cutting down expenses, when the easier and more popular way of putting off might have been taken, as was the habit of the Government which held office before 1916.

The people of British Columbia will not consider seriously the claims to office of the remnants of the discredited McBride-Bowser party which they scorned at the polls in 1916 and again in 1920, and which party has done nothing to rehabilitate itself in public confidence since. The people will look with even less favor on the claims of the richly endowed party of General McRae, knowing the ulterior reasons for its organization and remembering that its leader was one of the chief of the crew which in the boom days pirated so ruthlessly at the public and private expense of our citizens.

Premier Oliver in appealing to the good sense of the voters has nothing to fear. His leadership has been capable and sound and the people are in no mood to experiment with any of the motley and inexperienced opponents that come forward now seeking office.

TRADE STATISTICS

IMPORTS into the United Kingdom in 1923 were in the following proportions: 33 per cent. from Europe, 27.1 per cent. from British Empire, 19.8 per cent from the United States, 10.9 per cent. from Mexico, Central and Latin America, and 9.2 per cent. from other countries. Imports from Europe increased in 1923 about 16 per cent. over 1922. Throughout 1922 imports from most of the European countries showed a general though not unbroken progress, and in each quarter of 1923 the value of imports was greater than in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

Of the exports of British produce and manufactures, 33.7 per cent. went to European countries, 35.5 per cent. to the British Empire, 8 per cent. to the United States, 8.8 per cent. to Mexico, Central and South America, and 14 per cent. to other countries. The course of trade in exports of British produce and manufactures to Europe was somewhat complicated. Exports to Northern Europe, which progressed steadily throughout 1922, fell off in the first quarter of 1923, but they were greater in each quarter of 1923 except the third than in the corresponding quarter of 1922. Exports to Germany at par of exchange were $50,893,000 in excess of those in 1922, but $50,237,000 of this amount was in coal sent to make up for the loss of the Ruhr supplies. As a whole, exports to Europe were greater in 1923 than in 1922 by $19,571,000, but if exports to Germany should be excluded they would have shown a heavy falling off of $31,322,000. It was the export of coal which saved the situation.

Despite the application of the Fordney tariff in the Autumn of 1922, British exports to the United States were greater in 1923 than in 1922, both in aggregate value and in the percentage of total exports.

THE LATE MR. FOX

THE death of Mr. G. T. Fox, which occurred with tragic suddenness on Saturday night, is keenly deplored throughout the community. Few local business men were as widely known on Vancouver Island, for he was born in Victoria and had been actively identified with the business life of the city since he left school. The concern which he conducted was established by his father fifty years ago and bore an excellent reputation which extended beyond the boundaries of Victoria and its environs. Mr. Fox took no active part in public life, but he was a close student of public questions, and always was broad and tolerant in his views. He was deeply interested in the work of fraternal organizations, notably the Masonic and Oddfellows orders to which he contributed many years of faithful energetic service. A kindly generous nature, unimpeachable honesty and an intense loyalty to his native city were some of the qualities which marked his singularly fine character. The Times tenders its sympathy to the family so suddenly bereaved.

For some time indications have been that the election campaign would be snappy. Everybody is now glad it is going to be short as well.

There seems to be some doubt as to whether the church union hearing at Ottawa is being carried on under the House, the Westminster, or the Queensberry rules.

The only disappointment to the pioneers reunion was that there was no old-time volunteer brigade with heavy black and brass helmets and red coats to conquer that fire Saturday night.

The common house fly, who is beginning to make himself heard and seen again, is once more found guilty. He has been set down by the County Medical Association as the carrier of foot and mouth disease in California. He is due for some more swatting.

Lord Rothermere's expansion as a publisher is amazing. No two publishers in Britain have bought, sold and today own as many newspapers as he. He has well over half the daily newspaper sales and from 67 to 73 per cent. of the Sunday sales.

The cut in the British duty on sugar was from five cents a pound to two and one-half cents. Cables now announce the reduction in the prices of English sugars by one and one-half cents a pound, the full amount of the tariff reduction. It is estimated that this reduction in tariff and the consequent reduction in prices will result in an increase in consumption of 10,000 tons a month in Britain.. The Briton knows how food taxes work.

The French complex on the debt question and international affairs is illustrated in the following comment from the semi-official Le Temps of Paris on the appropriation of $10,000,000 by United States for the feeding of destitute women and children in Germany: "When the United States gives $10,000,000 to Germany, France is benefited in two ways —Germany is in a better position to pay reparations, and the American Government, which is the creditor of France, certainly cannot expect France to pay it money to lend to the Germans."

JOAN OF ARC

A. B. Walkley in The London Times

It has taken over five centuries for the true Joan of Arc to emerge from her myth, far less mystical, but far more beautiful. It was Shakespeare's bad luck that he lived at the wrong time to do her justice.

WE HAVE WOOD TO BURN

From The Ottawa Journal

Three acres of a French forest were burned down through the carelessness of a cigarette smoker, and the news was considered of sufficient interest to put on the cables yesterday. Three acres! Pooh! We can burn that much of Canadian forests every minute and not blink an eyelash. Great is Canada.

WORD TO PARTY LEADERS

Anything may be forgiven but lack of courage.—R. L. Stevenson.

LONGING

I would not dread the years
If you would smile
And hold me to your heart
Once more awhile.

I would not stay the tears
In sorrow sown—
If at the harvest you
Would be my own.

I would not fear the night
That's just beyond—
If you were only mine
When morning dawned.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Find Your Master"

(Copyright)

HAPPY any man who has found a real master.

For a true master does not cramp you, reduce you to slavish imitation, dominate, absorb, so that your personality is lost in his.

A real master helps you to find yourself.

A true master sets you free.

No more interesting relation exists than that of teacher and pupil, master and disciple. All our lives we are following somebody, sitting at some one's feet, accepting the most vital decisions without a question from one in whom for some reason we believe.

We begin as school children. Those who have taught school can say that there is hardly a more pathetic moment than that where one stands for the first time before a group of little faces looking up to him as from distant depths for wisdom and guidance, which he knows only too well he sadly lacks. From that teacher there will come some spiritual essence that is going to remain with those pupils their life long.

When we grow up we are still at one school or another. Our capacity is limited; all we can do is to attend to our business; we have no time nor ability to think out great questions for ourselves; hence in politics we follow Smith, and in art Brown, and in literature Jones, and in religion Robinson. As for ourselves, we have to make a living.

A great deal that is written, therefore, about our duty to do our own thinking is impractical. We simply can not. It will be much more sensible to advise the average person to select intelligently his own masters.

There are some independent souls who rebel against the idea of any master at all. They would not follow anybody. They set up the totem pole of their own Ego and worship that, if anything.

This may be fine. Usually it is foolish.

No fetish is so dangerous as liberty. No road ends more surely in the bog of mediocrity and unconscious imitation than independence road.

For the surest way to individuality is to choose the right master. It is he who discovers you to yourself. He develops your inborn powers. He does not bind you. He makes you to be born again. So Socrates cryptically calls himself a "mid-wife." He did not tell his disciples what to think. He enabled them to find out what they really thought themselves.

How Louisburg Was Taken From France

GOVERNOR SHIRLEY of Massachusetts was restless and energetic. In the Autumn of 1744, a bold young fisherman of New England, who had suffered from French privateers, suggested to him that the New England Colonies should capture Louisbourg, the great fortress in Cape Breton, which was the home and harbor of French privateering in these waters. The Governor's imagination was kindled. Louisburg was supposed to be as impregnable as Gibraltar. Founded in 1720 after France had lost Acadia, $6,000 had been spent upon it, a prodigious sum for those days. The position was superb and a military delight. It was credited with being strongly held with picked troops. Yet they were French, and Shirley had unbounded faith in British blood, whether in Europe or America.

FOR Commander, Governor Shirley chose a wealthy civilian, a merchant named Pepperell, who knew nothing of sea fighting or of sieges, and little of armies, but had held more or less honorary rank in the militia. He made up his lack of military experience in geniality, popularity, and sound common sense. A dozen converted merchant and fishing vessels were the transports and naval protection. For additional protection and assistance the Governor appealed to Commodore Warren, commanding the North Atlantic squadron. Warren very willing, had to ask permission from the Admiralty. Before this came Shirley had packed the expedition off in April to Cape Breton. When he received his orders, however, Warren followed quickly and arrived in time to cover the landing and generally to save the siege.

After a rest of a month or so at Canso, the fleet ran over in a day to Louisburg. Governor Shirley, excellent armchair general, had drawn out in his study a detailed plan for landing. Having never seen the spot nor considered the local peculiarities of tide and surf, of wind, weather, shore and shelf and shallow, and quite neglecting enemy fire which had been most thoroughly provided for by the fortress engineers, he expected these rawest of provincial troops to accomplish what the ablest veterans would never have been able to accomplish. Pepperell's army experience grew rapidly. As many another commander has, he ignored his absurd orders and faced the facts.

It was dawn on May 12, 1745 as the British fleet ran into the wide Gabarus Bay to the west of the fortress peninsula. There was a force drawn ready to resist the landing, but Pepperell merely made a feint against these, landed his men two miles further west, and then defeated this tiny force at leisure, driving them helter-skelter home. Then the undisciplined New England rustics, glad to feel the earth beneath their feet, capered and yelled and fired off guns all over the cuntryside till the very formal Du Chambon was disgusted to have to fight such hoodlums. Had he been more efficient his disgust would have been much more in order. Luck, the British Fleet, and (it might reasonably be said) he himself were with these inelegant enemies, and before the Summer's end they were his masters.

THE PUBLISHER'S TROUBLES

From The Farmers' Sun

Nothing could more strikingly indicate the difficulties under which newspaper publishers labor in these times of high operating costs and restricted advertising revenue than the figures given by McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications. It reveals the fact that the weeding out process, commenced a few years ago, is still in process. There are, for instance, only 1,499 newspapers and regularly published periodicals in Canada, against 1,553 a year ago. Daily newspapers have decreased from 121 to 114; semi-weeklies from 34 to 30, and weeklies from 1,022 to 975. On the other hand, a small increase has taken place during the year in the number of monthly and semi-monthly periodicals.

The disappearance of seven daily newspapers, four semi-weeklies and 47 weeklies in twelve months represents the elimination of publications that have had insufficient financial resources to hold on until conditions improve. The survivors, many of them, have had to absorb considerable losses, and some of them will be missing when the roll is called again a year hence.

AN APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—As the pioneers' re-union is over and the pioneers are dispersing to their several homes and duties, before leaving I wish to tnder my sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude to those instrumental in bringing about this re-union, namely, the Historical Society and the Native Sons and Daughters of British Columbia, also to those pioneers and others who so generously risked their own lives on Saturday evening at the Provincial Library to prevent a panic.

It was so well carried out as they displayed such coolness in face of danger, showing the true pioneer spirit.

I was upstairs in the library when someone called out, "come on, come on, there is a meeting downstairs." I immediately started off and was wondering as the orderly crowd was coaxed along, which room we were to go into. As I passed Herbert Kent he smiled to me and said something about singing (am sure he did feel like smiling) that it was not until I started down the last staircase that I suspected anything wrong when someone behind me said, "There is a fire," so when we reached the lower hall, both saw and smelled smoke, we were not unprepared for the urgent and sharp command to get on, and felt truly thankful to get out safely.

If a panic had occurred the results would have been too terrible to think of. The one regrettable thing was the tragic death of Mr. Fox, both a native son and pioneer, and my deepest sympathy goes out to his family.

During the drive in the afternoon down Belleville Street I viewed with pleasure the old houses, some of them nearly fifty years old, but the home of my girlhood, an iron home, had been torn down. Also when we came to Craigflower and saw the old schoolhouse and different buildings so dear to my childhood, I felt sad to think that they showed such traces of time's destroying hand. Only the waters of the Arm were unchanged. Every event was so well and happily carried out; never a hitch anywhere, and the pioneers themselves came prepared to enjoy whatever came to hand.

Such hand shaking! Some would shake hands because you wore a tag, and finding your name would give a second shake with a grip that seemed loath to let go as some of us had not met for forty years.

Such friendliness, more like the old colonial days, that we represent.

We must not forget the lovely little nosegays of flowers arranged by some of the ladies of Victoria and presented by Miss Pooley to the pioneer women as souvenirs. Nothing could have been more appreciated as even a child of tender years loved pretty flowers, and the love continues on to old age.

Being the daughter of two pioneers and the wife of another, also a native daughter, I feel that I am a link between the past and present.

I have often felt that the colonial people and their history were gone into the discard and well nigh forgotten, but this re-union has imbued us with fresh life and hope. Never in my wildest dreams of the future did my mind reach out to such an event as this, and when I received my cherished invitation and tag I resolved that only accident or serious illness would prevent me from coming. Now it has gone into history, and we are going home like new men and women.

PRESERVATION OF OUR BEACHES

To the Editor:—Referring to your brief editorial regarding the contamination of the Dallas Road beaches, which appeared in The Times on Saturday, may I urge that you might render some service to this community by devoting a little more space and possibly investigation to this matter.

I notice that the subject is to be before the council for consideration this week and that furthermore the city engineer has placed himself on record to the effect that "eighty-five per cent." of the refuse strewn along the beaches comes from the vessels plying to and from our port.

Now Mr. Editor, I have had considerable experience in municipal work and have no inclination to badger a public official, whose duties are often of an onerous character, but having lived in the Dallas Road neighborhood for some time (where, by the way, I am paying rates out of all proportion to the marketable value of my property), and having watched the operations of the garbage scows for a considerable period, I must say that Mr. Preston's cool assurance staggered me.

Doubtless, Mr. Editor, you have read Kipling's amusing story regarding "the village that voted the earth was flat;" personally I am convinced that our city engineer was born in that particular village and has never succeeded in getting away from the habit of absolutely ignoring all the facts in question concerning any given subject. I am out along the breakwater most afternoons for a stroll, and, sir, it would appear to me that the operators of the garbage scows must study the tide tables and with callous effrontery select the incoming tides upon which to dump their loads. Within a few minutes on the incoming waters I have seen tins, bottles, boxes, and more filthy rubbish racing into shore, not by the dozen, score or hundred but literally in their thousands.

However, in such a beautiful city as Victoria, in whose boulevarded streets, flowering gardens, flourishing lawns and handsome homes every right-minded citizen (in spite of our burdensome taxes) must take a keen delight, such a filthy habit is tolerated is difficult indeed to understand.

The beaches and greensward along the Dallas Road from the Breakwater to Beacon Hill Park could be made one of the major attractions to this city, instead of which we are allowing them to become a close analogy to the nuisance ground of a third rate prairie village. I think if Mr. Preston would devote some afternoon to a personal investigation instead of attempting to review the matter from his office desk he would be a little less sure of his facts and considerably more circumspect in his figures.

LONG CAREER IN MINISTRY

As briefly stated on Saturday, Rev. George Wesley Johnson passed away on Saturday morning at a Mainland sanitarium. The late Mr. Johnson had been a resident of the city for the past thirteen years, having resided during that time at 884 Colville Road, Esquimalt. He was sixty-two years of age and was a native of Bruce County, Ontario. Mr. Johnson was ordained a Methodist minister in the Hamilton Conference in the month of June, 1885, being a graduate of Victoria University, Toronto.

The late Mr. Johnson, after a short period of ministry in Ontario, was transferred to the Alberta Conference, his first charge being at Banff. After many years of strenuous service in Alberta and Saskatchewan he was superannuated and came with his family to Victoria, where he had been an active member of the Wesley Methodist Church, Victoria West. Mr. Johnson was a well-known figure in the ministry throughout Western Canada, and endeared himself to all by his kindly and sympathetic disposition and his keen interest in the welfare of others.

He leaves, besides his widow, daughters, Mrs. L. A. Young of 525 Northcote Ave. and Mrs. P. J. Sinnott of 609 Moss Street. The funeral arrangements, which are in the hands of the Thomson Funeral Home, will be announced later.

PIONEERS GUESTS AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Over 300 Old-timers at Saturday's Reception; Visited "Mountjoy" Yesterday

The visiting pioneers were the guests at a delightful luncheon given in their honor by the Chief Justice and Mrs. Macdonald at Government House on Saturday afternoon, when between 300 and 400 accepted the invitation to attend. The guests were received in the drawing-room, which was beautifully decorated with flowers, passing later into the ballroom, where tea was served at table charmingly arranged with flowers and running the whole length of the ballroom. At the close of tea an informal community sing was held under the direction of Mr. Herbert Kent, the old people joining in the strains of such well-known old favorites as "Annie Rooney" and "Old Black Joe." Many of the pioneers availed themselves of the opportunity of sauntering through the beautiful grounds.

Yesterday the lovely gardens at Mountjoy, Foul Bay Road, were thrown open by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pemberton to the old-timers, many of them accepting the invitation to view this "show place" among Victoria gardens.

MANY GIRL GUIDES PASS FOR BADGES

Results of Examinations For Proficiency Announced in Various Crafts

Miss Bowron, convener of the badge committee of the Local Association of Girl Guides, has just completed another series of examinations for proficiency badges, and reports that on the whole the examiners appeared to be well pleased with the standard of work offered by the Guides in the various subjects. Miss M. Peden.

The next series of examinations will take place in the Fall commencing at the beginning of September. This will give all companies ample time to work up during the holidays and in camp and take their examinations at a time when there is no fear of clashing with the school examinations.

At the meeting of the local association on Thursday, it was decided to hold a district camp again this year, if possible at Sooke. The camp is to run for fourteen days, ten days' district camp, followed or preceded by a special four days' camp for Guiders and Patrol Leaders. All Guides should be getting their plans made now of how to attend this camp, which provides a wonderful opportunity of acquiring all sorts of useful information as well as having a glorious holiday.

Kumtuks Club—The monthly business meeting of the Kumtuks Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Alexandra Club, Pemberton Building. All members are urged to make a special effort to attend, as important business will be considered.

Opportunity blindness is a common form of defective mental vision. To test yourself for evidence of this defect, reflect as to how much interest you find in the classified advertisements. Have they always impressed you as merely a waste of small type—possibly interesting to somebody, but not to you? If this has been your attitude toward these little opportunity-bringers, you are a victim of opportunity-blindness, and should correct the defect without delay—and solely in your own interests.

SAILORS' GUILD ENERGETIC BODY

Little Band of Women Accomplished Splendid Work

A wonderful record of quiet but effective work among the seafaring men whose calling brings them to this port was revealed at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild for Sailors last week. That there is a big necessity for this work is shown by the registers of the Connaught Seamen's Institute and the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, which are maintained by the guild, and at which 3,677 men registered during the past year. Of this number, 2,995 were registered at the Esquimalt club.

Mrs. W. R. Sayer, the secretary, in her report stated that the year's work had been a heavy one. Last year's tag day brought in $602.85, and an additional $923.29 was raised from other sources; expenditures were $1,609.83 of which $109.53 was spent in the work among the lighthouses.

RELIEF WORK

The relief committee had helped seven families during the year. Timely assistance was also given to three widows whose husbands perished in the Alaskan, and layettes were provided for two babies. Christmas hampers and periodical gifts of magazines and warm woollies were sent to the lighthouses.

The wool convener, Mrs. Wilders, reported 143 pairs of socks, twenty-four sweaters, and fifteen scarves had been given out, and she made an earnest appeal for more knitters. The report referred with regret to the serious illness of T. Wright Hill, the port missionary, who has been a patient at the Jubilee Hospital for some time.

ESQUIMALT CLUB BUSY

Mrs. Ranns, matron of the Esquimalt Sailors' Club, in her report stated that five boys had been given room, bath and board covering a period of five weeks, while three boys for whom she secured ships in Vancouver, were provided with their fare to that port. Sailors from sixteen ships had used the club during the year and each of the boats was supplied with books and papers for the crews.

The election of officers resulted in the unanimous re-election of Mrs. Alice Thomson as president; Mrs. W. R. Sayer, vice-president; Mrs. Gordon Smith, treasurer; hospital visitor, Mrs. W. R. Sayer; relief committee, Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. Gordon Smith.

Mrs. E. J. Carson is leaving to-day for her home in Vancouver. Mrs. Carson is one of the McGee pioneer family so well known in Point Grey and New Westminster. She came over to Victoria to attend the Old-Timers' Reunion and had the pleasure of meeting many of her girlhood friends.

✣ ✣ ✣

Mrs. Nelson Shepherd of Kelowna will have as her guest for the next three weeks Mrs. George C. Howell of St. James Street, Oak Bay.

LADYSMITH

Miss Mollie Stephenson entertained a number of her friends at her home Friday. Among the guests were the Misses Edna Wallace, M. Hudson, Gwen Gillies, R. Verchere, D. Bryant, I. Stephenson and Mrs. H. Parks, and Messrs. D. Bailey, F. Squires, H. Welsh, J. Roberts, F. Holmes, G. Dickson, H. Parkes, M. O'Shea and Dr. Henry.

✣ ✣ ✣

The dance held in the Agricultural Hall Friday was a decided success. A number of the officers and men from the U.S.S. Cutter Bear were in attendance, and the contrast made by the uniforms gave a very pleasing effect. Little's Harmony-five Orchestra provided the music.

✣ ✣ ✣

Mr. Archie Mathieson, member of the Ladysmith football team, left for Calgary where he will in future reside.

Mr. C. F. Davie, Conservative candidate for the Cowichan-Newcastle district, was in town Friday.

Daughters of England. — The regular monthly meeting of Princess Alexandra Lodge 18, Daughters and Maids of England, was held in Harmony Hall, Fort Street, Thursday evening. W. P. Sister King in the chair, about fifty members being present, including W.P.P.D.D. Sister Stafford and W. T. Sister Wright of Primrose Lodge. One new member was initiated into the order. W.P.P. D.D. Sister Stafford, who represented the order at the banquet given by the Royal Society of St. George gave a splendid report of the affair. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Elesmere and Mr. Skett for kindness shown to the lodge. The social convener, Mrs. Walter Skett, gave a report on whist drives and rummage sale, showing a good balance; arrangements are well in hand for several social affairs in the near future. At the close of the meeting icecream and cake was served to the members by Sister C. Smith.

It is made in widths sufficient to completely cover any ordinary room without crack or seam. Or, if you prefer, you can have the same pleasing beauty in Dominion Linoleum Rugs. They come in sizes to fit any room and like Dominion Linoleum, wear for years.

Let your local furnishing store help you choose Dominion Linoleum and Dominion Linoleum Rugs. See his new spring designs and note particularly the moderate prices.

Send us your name and address and we will mail you an attractive rug folder in four colors. Address Dominion Oilcloth & Linoleum Co., Limited, Montreal.

Look for the strong burlap back when buying. It forms the base of all genuine Dominion Linoleum and Dominion Linoleum Rugs and guarantees long wear. See also the Dominion label, shown above, on the face of all rugs and piece goods.

Mr. Erick Bowman, the discoverer of The Bowman Remedy, claims that in treating 70,000 cattle in the United States the results have been successful in 98% of the cases treated.

Are your dairy cows and heifers causing you trouble?

Are you obtaining results in calves and milk that satisfy you?

Do your cows (according to your knowledge of their capacity) produce as much milk as they should—or are you marking time and feeding a number of boarders that should be sent to the butcher?

These are matters that can be put right. Delays are fatal. Why not consult

SPRING CARNIVAL A BIG ATTRACTION

Novel Entertainment Promised at Armories on Wednesday Evening

A variety of entertainment will be provided for patrons of the Spring carnival which the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., have arranged for Wednesday evening at the Armories. The service clubs are co-operating in this effort to raise funds for a most worthy object, that of providing milk for the under-nourished children attending the city schools. The admission charge will be very small, and it is anticipated that there will be a big crowd of patrons.

Heaton's augmented orchestra will provide an excellent programme of dance music. In addition there will be a series of novel turns and carnival features.

The general public is invited to attend the next meeting of the Royal Society of St. George, Tuesday, May 13. Harry Charlesworth, will speak on modern tendencies in education. Rev. H. T. Archbold will preside. A good attendance is looked for, and the meeting will be held in the Conservative Club rooms, Campbell Building.

TO FIGHT AGAINST EXCLUSION POLICY

Rev. Dr. William Axling Comes From Tokio to Warn Americans

On a mission of propaganda to resist the Japanese Exclusion Bill just passed by the American Congress, Dr. William Axling, of the Tokio Misaki Tabernacle at the Japanese national capital, was on arrival by the liner Jefferson on Saturday afternoon, and began yesterday in Seattle a campaign which will be conducted through the churches and chambers of commerce.

This twofold principle, he explained to The Times, is due to the fact that the churches who have conducted missionary enterprise in Japan are largely American, and the ground will be cut from their feet if no change is brought into effect in connection with the immigration restriction. It will, in his judgment, destroy the foundations of Christian work in Japan. From the commercial standpoint there is the situation that the increasing business with the United States will disappear, and economically Japan will retire from the place of a world power to take the position of a leader of the Asiatic peoples against the white race. He supports his argument with a series of interviews from all the leading statesmen from Premier Kiyoura downwards, and from all the principal commercial men ranging through the list from Viscount Shibusawa.

He argues it is a case whether Christianity or color shall rule, an attempt to turn mankind back into the dark ages. He states that outbreaks of violence are almost sure to occur soon in Japan against the Americans, because while the leaders counsel prudence and are willing to see an agreement, but not exclusion, the popular mind will not be controlled much longer. Men he consulted are quite ready to restrict immigration, but they will not stand for action based on racial discrimination.

Dr. Axling will address two Baptist conventions in Washington, and then proceed to the Northern Baptist Conference at Milkaukee, after which he will begin an active propaganda against the legislation. His church was destroyed during the earthquake, but his residence was left intact. Mrs. Axling accompanies him.

CONSIDERED FAVORITES

Baltimore, Md., May 12—On the eve of the running of the seventeenth renewal of the Preakness, Wise Counsellor, Mad Play and Rustic, are the names most frequently mentioned from among the twenty-one three-year-olds entered for the $50,000 classic at a mile and a furlong. Wise Counsellor is the pride of the West, while Mad Play carries the bulk of eastern hopes. Maryland pins faith on Rustic. Despite the selection of these favorites, the race is considered to be fairly open. Many withdrawals from the crowded field are likely.

Mrs. T. H. Wright, president of the Provincial W.C.T.U., who came over to attend the funeral of Mrs. John Harvey, was the guest over the week-end of Mrs. James McEwan, Blanshard Street.

DEPRECATES LARGE MOVEMENT INTO CANADA AT PRESENT

Victoria Invited to Join Toronto Movement to Restrict Trained Artisans

Victoria has been asked by Toronto to join in the movement to prevent the influx into Canada of skilled artisans, while so many people are unemployed. The communication, which will come before the council this evening, asks the leading municipalities of Canada to come together and urge joint action on the Federal Government.

INFLUX SERIOUS

The letter says:—"Toronto, the second largest city in the Dominion of Canada in point of population, has during the recent Winter months passed through a serious unemployment situation, created and prolonged in a very large measure by reason of an unusually heavy influx of immigrants, chiefly of the unskilled classes in so far as labor is concerned and which could not be readily absorbed in ordinary industrial and trained employment. As the months passed, the conditions of unemployment became more intense until at the present time when seasonably there should be few out of work, the reports issued from the Government Employment Bureau here are not at all encouraging as a barometer indicative of relief to any appreciable extent in the near future.

"The experience of this city has doubtless been the experience of every other city in Canada: just as acure in comparison with population and the volume of employment which could be afforded."

SHOULD STOP MOVEMENT

"The Board of Control of this city feels that the time has arrived for the cities of the Dominion to notify both the Federal and Provincial Governments that if they brought immigrants to this country they would have to look after them until they found employment, or, in the alternative, that the Municipalities insist that it is imperative to adopt a new policy in regard to immigration, if not to entirely put on a speedy stop order. Recent dispatches from Europe published in papers throughout the Dominion announced that over eight thousand immigrants would sail from European ports for Canada within the next few weeks to swell the number of thousands now idle for lack of the opportunities to earn a livelihood. On the other hand, thousands of our best trained mechanics are leaving Canada and entering the United States where work is plentiful and where high wages are being paid. The United States immigration records show a monthly average of 17,000 Canadians entering the United States. In June, July, August and September of last year the figures ran from 16,000 to 18,000 per month. This movement, if maintained, would mean a loss exceeding 200,000 a year.

DESIRE OPINIONS

"The Board of Control desires to invite from the councils of the different cities of Canada an expression of their views touching this very vital question, and should there be a general concurrence looking towards concerted action it is suggested for consideration that arrangements be made for a joint memorial to the Federal Government and the various Provincial Governments, or by a representative deputation, to change the immigration policy and to devise measure for keeping Canadians in this country."

"I shall deeply appreciate the honor of a reply stating the attitude of your council herein, after which the matter can be further amplified and a programme of action outlined."

CHILDREN PREFER DOGS AS FRIENDS

Essay Competition Shows Popularity of Canines Over Other Animals

Animal week begins to-day. In this connection the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has judged an essay competition amongst the children of Victoria, on the subject "My Favorite Animal." Through these essays it has been unquestionably settled that dogs occupy the place of favorite friend and companion to the majority of children.

During Animal week the S.P.C.A. will try to bring to the attention of the public the rights and needs of the dumb creatures which cannot speak for themselves.

Although the dog was generally the favorite amongst the essay writers in competition for the S.P.C.A. prizes, the horse and cat were next on the list with a great many admirers and staunch friends. One or two of the essayists professed friendship for cows, goats and rabbits, and several also decided that monkeys were their choice of companion from the animal kingdom.

The prize winners in the S.P.C.A. competition will receive their rewards at the social evening to be held on Wednesday, 8 o'clock, in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street.

THE WINNERS

Class 1—1, Huntley R. Redpath, twelve years, 369 Sunrise Avenue; 2, Jack Woodley, twelve years, Collegiate School. Honorable mention—Evelyn Brooks, fourteen years; Patricia Dier, twelve years; Wilson Menzies, twelve years.

Class 2—1, Jose Hodgson, ten years, Crosby School; tied for second place, Gertrude Macdonald, twelve years, Sir James Douglas School and Willie Van Munster, eleven years, Sir James Douglas School; 3, Edo Jephson, nine years, 71 Menzies Street. Honorable Mention—Violet Asprey, eleven years; Molly Hunter, nine years; Margaret Parker, ten years; Boyd Hill, eleven years; Alice McLaurin, twelve years; Lilian Hogarth, eleven years.

Class 3—1, Fred M. Harding, eight years, Collegiate School; 2, Betty Clark, six years, R.M.D., Sidney. Honorable mention—Jerry Archer, eight years, Seven Oaks, B.C.

The prizes will be presented to the winners at a social evening to take place in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, at 8 o'clock on Wednesday.

Island Teams Win Opening Games in Connaught Series

Veterans Show Splendid Form in Defeating Canadian Nationals of Vancouver

Forward Line Performed Well, While Half-backs Played Sterling Game

Three Island teams were victorious in the first round of the Connaught Cup series played on Saturday afternoon. Victoria fans had an opportunity to watch a local team survive, a most pleasing feat in view of the fact that this is the first time the Capital has been represented in this series. The vanquished teams were all from the Mainland. The results were as follows:

At Victoria—Veterans 2, Canadian Nationals 1.

At Nanaimo—Nanaimo 5, Hotel Vancouver 1.

At Vancouver—Ladysmith 3, South Hills 0.

Smart work by the half-back, combined with a well-functioning forward line, enabled the Veterans to score an impressive victory over the Canadian Nationals at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. The red-shirts performed better than any team that has been sent on to the field here for many long days and there is every reason to believe that the side will meet with other successes before the Connaught Cup is decided.

Although pitted against a team that possessed a very fleet set of forwards, with the fast-moving clever Lundy at centre, and a very steady and aggressive back division the Veterans unfolded a very carefully planned attack and, has a few of the "headers" off the noodles of Owens and Coulter and some of the screaching shots that left the toe of Muir been a little lower, the score would have been more decisive in favor of the Vests.

WING WORK NICE

The work of the Veterans attacking division was the most pleasing feature of the afternoon. In the first half Preston and Muir on the left wing staged many beautiful runs and crossed the ball into the Nationals' goal-mouth continually, giving Coulter a chance to get his head to work. In the second half the right wing showed up to better advantage, Sheritt and Merfield working hard and getting the ball in for good openings. Coulter at centre forward, proved a constant source of worry for the opposing backs, his rushing tactics proving very dangerous. Both goals scored by Victoria resulted from Coulter following in.

The work of Roe, Owens and Ord stood out very prominently. In the early stages of the game Lundy, Arnold and Boyd with their splendid speed, gave the halves some trouble but once they fathomed the play the visitors were held out. Harry Copas, as usual, proved to be a pillar of strength at full-back. His cool head and steady foot were much to the fore in the closing stages of the game when the Nationals were crwding in and making every effort to even the score. Johnny Cummings, who dropped back to full-back when Campbell found it impossible to turnout, kept his side of the field free although he did not cover as much ground as Copas. Bridges in goal had a very quiet afternoon and the shot that beat him was out of his reach.

VISITING GOALIE BUSY

Roots, the Nationals' goalie, was on the jump most of the time he was on the field and his charge had many close calls. Right from the kick-off the Vets crowded him and Muir's header just squeezed over the bar. Muir sent a weak shot which Roots cleared and after the Nationals had forced a corner the Vets carried the play to the other end and Merfield laid a daisy-cutter across the goal-mouth which Roots just managed to scoop out of the dirt. After Bridges had saved from Arnold Coulter had a good chance but skied the ball far over the bar.

After a concentrated attack, with the left wing doing a lot of useful work, Muir slipped between the backs and sent a fast shot right into the mid-section of Roots. The ball flew back to the toe of Coulter, who made no mistake and found the open net.

The Veterans had the upper hand at this time and kept up the pressure on the Nationals' goal. Coulter just missed with another header. The Victoria goal had a close call when a twisting shot from Lundy just missed the post. Coulter missed two headers in a row, the second coming on a beautiful centre from Preston.

MISSED PENALTY SHOT

The Nationals had a good chance to even the count when they were awarded a penalty, the ball striking Cummings' hand in the sacred territory. Arnold, who took the shot, was little high in his elevation and the cleared the bar much to the relief of the fans.

For a brief period of pressure the Nationals were driven back into their own territory and Roots fisted a shot one out from Coulter and Sherritt sent one trickling by the post.

The Veterans forced three corners in a row and Sherratt dropped all of them right in the goal mouth. Owens headed in the first one over the bar. On the second one Muir hit the bar with a fast shot while Owens again was strong with his head on the third and it went over the cross-piece.

The Vets pressed to the attack in the second half and Coulter and Merfield were through only to have the former place a weak shot wide of the sticks. The Nationals had a share of the play for a time but they only laid one dangerous shot on the net and this was taken care of by Bridges.

THE WINNING GOAL

The Veterans' left wing flashed into the picture again when it carried the ball down and gave Coulter a chance to score the winning goal. The ball was crossed to Merfield who tipped it to Coulter. Roots made a game try to save the goal but the ball was traveling too fast and he let it slip over the goal-line. The Nationals protested the goal, but it was allowed.

Scenting defeat the Nationals crowded on to the attack and Arnold slipped when in the act of shooting. They played one man back and caught the Vets offside several times. Copas's footwork began to shine as the Nationals maintained their attack. Owens was also standing out in his defensive game.

The Veterans' attacks were less frequent towards the close. Coulter had two shots and Muir another and then came a pretty piece of play by the entire forward line which resulted in a clean penetration and Coulter, with the net at his mercy, just headed a couple of inches outside the post.

Heustis, the visiting outside left, gave the fans a thrill when he sent in a terrific shot which Bridges just managed to tip out of harm's way with his toe.

The teams were:

Veterans—Bridges, Copas and John Cummings; Rowe, Owens and Ord; J. Sherratt, Merfield, Coulter, Muir and Preston.

Canadian Nationals—Roots; Baker and Crutz; Chambers, Smith and Reid; Huestis, Arnold, Lundy, Boyd and Butters.

Epinard Wins His First Race of Year Without an Effort

Paris, May 12. — Epinard, the champion three-year-old of France last season, made his initial bow on the French turf yesterday as a four-year-old, and won in the proverbial "walk" at Longchamps, in a seven-furlong race.

The race, the Argenteuil stakes, was at about 1,500 yards. Epinard covered the distance in 1 minute 24½ seconds.

Epinard was the overwhelming favorite at 1 to 10. He gave each of the other horses about twenty pounds the better in the weights and beat them by four lengths.

Epinard is meeting Jefferson Davis Cohn's Sir Calleghad III in their match race May 19.

Canadian Soccer Team Has Heavy Programme Ahead

Twenty-Four More Games Will be Played by Tourists While in Australia

Five Test Matches Are to be Played Against Pick of Commonwealth

Winnipeg, May 12—The itinerary of the Canadian all-star soccer team now visiting Australia was announced here last night by Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association. The Canadians played their first game at Sydney last Saturday. The itinerary, which includes five test matches, follows:

May 14—Wollongong, against South Coast.

May 17—Sydney, against New South Wales.

May 21 — Granville, against Granville.

May 24 — Newcastle, against Newcastle.

May 27 — Maitland, against Maitland.

May 31—At Ipswich or Brisbane, against Queensland.

June 3—At Ipswich or Brisbane, against Queensland.

July 26—At Adelaide, against Australia; fifth test match.

July 31—Leave for Canada from Sydney.

Three Functions To be Staged For Queen of Sports

Three functions are being staged for the benefit of the "Queen of Sport" during the next few days. To-night at the Royal Athletic Park the Tillicums and the Y.M.C.A. will clash in an indoor ball game, at which the queen will be the guest of honor.

Following the game a dance will be held at the Caledonia Hall with Holt's orchestra in attendance. All the latest hits will be played, and it is expected that a large crowd will attend.

To-morrow night at the Royal Athletic Park the Esquimalt and Garrison football teams will meet in an exhibition game. This match should be a good one, as the Garrison has a strong line-up, having won the Wednesday League championship, while the dockyarders made a good showing in the first division.

All the proceeds from these affairs will go towards buying votes for the representative of sport.

Five C's Move Out In Front in Race For Cricket Title

Defeated Incogs While Albions Fell Before Victoria, Breaking Tie

Second Division Gets Off to Auspicious Start; Veterans Win Game

United Services	2	0	2	0

Five C's went into undisputed possession of first place in the cricket race on Saturday by virtue of its victory over the Incogs and the inability of the Albions to win over Victoria. As a result Victoria is now tied for second place with the Albions, with the Incogs in fourth place. The tail-end teams, Cowichan and United Services, did not play owing to the inability of the latter eleven to reach Duncan for the game.

The Second Division swung into action on Saturday with the Veterans, the only winners. They defeated the Congos. The other match between the Five C's and Cowichan resulted in a draw.

SPARKS OUT EARLY

The Five C's victory was made easy through the early dismissal of Sparks, the leading batsman of the Incogs. He had only put on six when Booth made a spectacular catch near the boundary. Wenman was the only man on the side that took kindly to the Five C's bowling and he made fifty-four before being stumped by Allen. The Five C's hit consistently with Butterworth leading with a thirty-nine.

Victoria had little trouble disposing of Albions. The bowling of Wilkinson and Verall was very deadly, and the side was dismissed for a mere sixty. The Victoria batsmen got their runs quickly with Coley turning in a sixty-four.

BASEBALL PRACTICE

The Pirates' baseball team will hold a practice at the Central Park to-morrow evening at 6.45 o'clock. All players are requested to be on hand.

Retain Grass Hockey Championship

Although the Victoria and Vancouver grass hockey teams each won a game this season it has been found impossible to stage a third and the Mainlanders have agreed that, as the Capitals won the Allen Cup, emblematic of the title, in 1923, they should retain it this season. Both games played between these clubs this year went into overtime before they were dcided. In the game here Victoria won after thirty minutes overtime, while in the fixture on the Mainland the locals were just nosed out. The Victoria team was made up of stars from the Ganges and Cowichan clubs as well as the Victoria High School and Victoria Grass Hockey Club. The players in the picture are as follows: Standing, left to right, Dermot Crofton, of Ganges; C. Hodgson, of Victoria High School; R. Williams, of Cowichan; H. Baring, of Victoria; B. Bredin, of Victoria; H. Snider, Victoria High School; P. Fletcher, honorary secretary, with Thisbe Fletcher, the mascot; I. McIntyre, of Victoria, and F. Curtis, Hayward, of Cowichan. Kneeling, T. Winsby, Victoria; D. Hudson, captain, Victoria, and D. C. Roberts, of Cowichan.

Two Long Drivers Meeting in Finals for Golf Laurels

John Savident and W. G. Leith Will Play For Uplands Golf Championship

John Savident and W. G. Leith, both of whom hit the ball a mile, will play-off for the championship of the Uplands Golf Club next week. They will compete in a 36-hole match and the victor will take over from H. Collings the crown of champion.

Collings was knocked out in the second round yesterday by R. J. Darcus, who in turn fell prey to the mighty hitting Savident. Jos. Edmunds, who was looked upon as the man to beat for the title, was unable to fulfill his engagement with Savident in the second round, and John won by default.

Leith defeated S. L. Feesey, 3 and 2, in the second round, and then conquered C. Morrison in the semi-finals by 2 up. Darcus pressed Savident all the way in the semis, but was finally beaten by 1 up.

Joe Wilson was knocked out in the second round by Morrison, the score being 3 and 2. Collings, who won the championship yesterday, went under before the sterling play of Darcus by 2 and 1.

BOTH GREAT DRIVERS

The finals for the championship should prove a very interesting tilt as both men are noted for their driving ability. Savident hits the longer ball, but he lacks the control which features Leith's drives.

The finals of the second and third flight were decided yesterday, H. H. Beck defeating R. L. Pocock by 4 and 2 in the former, and B. H. Aaronson winning the latter by 1 up.

The results were as follows:

Championship Flight—Second Round

W. G. Leith beat S. L. Feesey 3 and 2.

C. Morrison beat J. E. Wilson 3 and 2.

J. Savident beat J. H. Edmonds by default.

R. J. Darcus veat H. Collings 2 and 1.

Semi-final

W. G. Leith beat C. Morrison 2 up.

J. Savident beat R. J. Darcus 1 up.

First Flight—Second Round

R. Foulis beat R. L. Challoner 4 and 3.

A. Youngman beat A. Sheret 2 and 1.

G. Pretty beat A. F. Thomas 1 up at twentieth.

W. C. Brynjolfsen beat H. E. Hunnings 7 and 6.

Semi-final

R. Foulis beat A. Youngman 5 and 3.

W. C. Brynjolfsen beat G. Pretty 4 and 3.

Second Flight-Semi-final

H. H. Beck beat W. Wilkinson 1 up.

R. L. Pocock beat J. Macallam by default.

Final

H. H. Beck beat R. L. Pocock 4 and 2.

Third Flight—Semi-final

A. B. Dunn beat J. Phelan 6 and 5.

B. H. Aaronson beat L. B. Trimen 2 and 1.

Final

B. H. Aaronson beat A. B. Dunn 1 up.

Editor Joins the Hole in One Club

The Hole-in-one-Club now claims a member of the fourth estate. Yesterday while negotiating the trees at the ninth hole of the Macaulay Point Golf Club Charles H. Swayne, editor of The Colonist, had the thrill of sinking his tee shot. This is a very difficult hole and reflects much credit on the skill of the golfer.

Canadian Olympic Chief in Squabble With Aquatic Head

Toronto, May 12 (By Canadian Press) — Although regretting the stand taken by the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, as outlined in a press dispatch from Montreal on Friday, quoting President Herschern, of the Amateur Swimming Association, to the effect that the Olympic finals would be held in Winnipeg, P. J. Muluqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee, stated Saturday that the decision of the committee meeting held in Montreal recently would be adhered to and the Olympic trials held in Toronto June 21.

American Ruggers Will Meet French in Olympic Finals

Defeated Rumanians by 37 to 0 at Paris Yesterday; Showed Fine Form

Paris, May 12.—The rugby experts of the Paris newspapers all protest to-day against the hooting of the American team by the spectators in their Olympic game at the Colombes Stadium yesterday in which they defeated Rumania 37 to 0, thus winning the right to meet France in the finals next Sunday.

Columbus' Olympic Stadium, France, May 12.—The United States rugby football team yesterday won the right to meet France in the final match of the Olympic competition, by defeating the Rumanian team, 37 to 0.

During the second period the United States team carried out snappy combination work and tricky passes, instead of crushing through the lighter Rumanian line, as they did in the first period, in order to clinch the game at the start.

The United States team, with eight substitutes in their lineup, showed the spectators a great article in rugby playing. They were superior in every department.

MACAULAY POINT GOLF

Three players tied for first place in the regular monthly medal competition held by the Macaulay Point Golf Club yesterday. J. A. Montgomery, A. D. Finley and J. H. McConnell each turned in net scores of 68.

Rain Halts Fight Between Wills and Madden To-night

New York, May 12.—The fifteen-round heavyweight match between Harry Wills, negro challenger for Jack Dempsey's title and Bartley Madden, veteran Irishman, scheduled for to-night at the Queensbore Stadium, has been postponed until next Friday night because of rain.

New York, May 12.—After waiting three years for an opportunity to meet Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world, Harry Wills was to have met Bartley Madden to-night in a fifteen-round bout, the first of a series which he hopes will place him in the ring with the champion.

Madden is not regarded as of championship calibre but it is expected he will afford an opportunity of a critical judgment as to whether Wills has lost ability during his inactivity and whether his hand, recently broken, will justify a championship fight.

"Human Fish" Is Still Attacking Century Record

Johnny Weismuller Slices Another Two-Fifths of Second Off Old Mark

Omaha, Neb., May 12.—Johnny Weismuller, Illinois Athletic Club, clipped two-fifths of a second off his world's swimming record of 51 4-5 seconds in the 100-yard free style event here last night.

San Francisco, May 12.—Warren Kealoha, world's champion backstroke swimmer and member of the Hawaiian Olympic team, swam 440 yards, backstroke, in 5.55 1-5, outdistancing his teammates by more than ten yards here last night.

Lester Smith of the San Francisco Olympic club, established a new record for the Olympic tank, when he defeated Sam Kahanamoku of the Hawaiian team, in the 220-yard free style swim. Smith's time was 2.20 4-5. The Hawiians defeated the Olympians in the 400-yard relay race.

San Francisco, May 12.—Al White of Stanford University, won the Pacific Association's high diving championship in a contest at Searsville Lake yesterday afternoon.

Arne Borg of Sweden, gave an exhibition swim during the afternoon. He plans to leave San Francisco next Wednesday for Vancouver, B.C., where he will participate in some exhibition events after which he will go to Chicago.

Five Indoor Ball Games Are on Tap For This Evening

Five ball games are scheduled for to-night in the Victoria and District Indoor Baseball League. No less than ten teams will be seen in action this evening. The games are :

Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. vs. Garrison, Work Point.

Naval Barracks vs. Hillcrests at Macaulay.

Tillicums vs. Y.M.C.A. at Royal Athletic Park.

Prior's vs. Esquimalt at Victoria West Park.

Fifth Regiment vs. Civil Service at Central Park.

In the game at Work Point between the Garrison and the Moore-Whittington Lumber Company teams the lumber nine will be making its initial appearance in the indoor league. It is not known what kind of a team the newcomers have but there are rumors that they will make the league leading Tommies step.

The game at Macaulay Point between the Naval Barracks and the Hillcrests will bring together two teams which have yet to taste defeat. The latter team has played one game and won, while the former has two victories to its credit.

At the Royal Athletic Park the Tillicums and Y.M.C.A. teams will have May McAllister, Queen of Sports, as their guest. The queen will pitch the first ball of the game. It is expected that this game will be a thriller as the Tillicums will be out to chalk up their first win, while the "Y" boys are anxious to creep nearer the top of the league.

All games will commence at 6.45 o'clock sharp.

Floyd Johnson is Matched to Battle Canadian Scrapper

New York, May 12. — Floyd Johnson, Iowa heavyweight, who Friday night knocked out Quinten Romero of Chile will battle Jack Renault, hard hitting Canadian, in the next bout of a campaign which may put him again in the ranks of title contenders from which he dropped a year ago.

Tex Rickard announced on Saturday that he planned to stage a Renault-Johnson match in New York probably the middle of June. The winner, according to Rickard's plans, would oppose Harry Wills in July for the right to meet Dempsey.

Play for Victoria Golf Club Title Reaches "Semis"

Four Star Players Survive Close Matches in Second Round Yesterday

Play for the golf championship of the Victoria Golf Club has narrowed down to the semi-finals, with Walter Parry, R. H. Swinerton, R. Scott-Moncrieff and J. F. Wilson in the charmed brackets.

In the second round of the championship flight Art Beasley, Carew Martin, N. Thornton Fell and A. E. Haynes fell by the wayside after very interesting matches. Martin carried Swinerton to the nineteenth hole before he yielded, while Scott-Moncrieff had a struggle on his hands with his young rival, Fell, winning by 1 up.

The semi-finals should produce two keen matches as the quartette of players are all on their game, and now that they are within reach of the championship can be depended upon keeping on edge until the series is over.

The results are as follows:

Championship Flight

W. Parry defeated A. Musgrave, 1 up.

A. G. Beasley defeated J. A. Rithet at twentieth.

R. H. Swinerton defeated Dr. George Hall, 4 and 3.

CONSTABLE SENDS IN RESIGNATION

Warned For Foot Patrol, Constable Palmer Resigns

Fined one month's pay and ordered to report for foot duty in uniform to-day Motorcycle Constable Thomas Palmer of the city police force, replied with a written resignation, which reached Chief Fry this morning, with a request that it take effect at once.

Constable Palmer was disciplined by the police board on a charge of insubordination, the fine following a week's suspension, while the matter was being investigated.

Constable Palmer was ten years on the force as a motorcycle constable, prior to an accident several weeks ago, when his machine upset while taking a constable on duty. Both driver and passenger were injured, and the machine wrecked.

Following the accident Motorcycle Constable Palmer was adjudged by his medical adviser incapable of motorcycle service. Warned for street duty he failed to appear. Suspension and fine followed. The resignation will be laid before the Police Commissioners.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Several appeal books, concerning cases to come before the B.C. Court of Appeal on June 10 were filed at the court registry to-day.

The Natural History Society will hold its final meeting of the season at 3121 Pemberton Building at 8 o'clock tonight, when general business will be discussed.

Charged of robbery with violence preferred against three youths in the Saanich police court in respect to the assault upon Frederick McDonald, a navy yard employee, on the Gorge Road recently, will be heard before Magistrate Jay this afternoon.

Death from natural causes was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury sitting in inquest at the Thomson Funeral premises to-day on the remains of the late Mrs. Isabella Nelson. Mrs. Nelson was found dead in her home at 812 Blanshard Street at 12.30 a.m. on May 7. Dr. E. C. Hart presided.

Charged with striking two Chinamen, Wilfred Hadden was arraigned before Magistrate Jay in the city police court this morning. The accused declared that he had been called names by one of the complainants and that he had retaliated without words. He was remanded on $50 bail for hearing tomorrow.

Claiming payment of a balance alleged due Donald McFee opened suit against J. L. Smith and R. F. Westover in County Court this morning. A. J. Patton appears for plaintiff, and Henry C. Hall, K.C., for the defendants, loggers in the Malahat district. The hearing proceeds before Judge Lampman, with the taking of evidence.

C. P. Hill, the newly elected chairman of the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce was cordially welcomed to the meeting of the directors of the Chamber this afternoon. Mayor Reginald Hayward, who attended as an exo-fficio member of the directorate, was also welcomed by the president, C. P. W. Schwengers, who hoped he would be able to attend the meetings each week.

A musicale will be held under the auspices of the Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, May 13, at the home of Mrs. J. B. McKilligan, 1753 Rockland Avenue. The following artists will take part: Miss Margaret Campbell, pianist; Miss Anita Holt, violinist; Miss M. MacFadden, elocutionist; vocal solos by Miss D. Pullen, Mrs. Templeton, Major Firth, K. Angus and A. Partridge.

Burt Farquharson, a designer of aircraft for the Boeing interests at Seattle, and now established in a similar work under his own name, was a visitor in the city over the week-end. Mr. Farquharson, who designed many of the U.S. army aircraft made by the Boeing factory, has plans for the construction of a three-seated monoplane to cost only $2,800. The planes, hopes their inventor, will have a ready sale for general purpose flying, and will be turned out on a large scale.

A fine of $15 was imposed on H. B. Robb, charged with speeding, in the city police court this morning.

The trial of William W. Eastman and Wallace MacNaughton, severally charged with seduction, and jointly with supplying liquor to a minor, was postponed one week in the city police court today. Ernest Miller appeared for the accused, requesting the remand and stating that Stuart Henderson, briefed to appear for one of the accused, was busy at the Nanaimo Assizes. Magistrate Jay set Monday next as the day of hearing. The accused are on bail in the sum of $4,000.

FOREST FIRE SITUATION IS DANGEROUS NOW

Continued Drought Parches Woods and Causes Forestry Experts Alarm

British Columbia faces a dangerous forest fire situation today, according to the first weekly fire bulletin of the season, issued at the forest branch of the Lands Department this morning. So far about 120 fires have broken out in the woods of the Province and the continued drought is causing the forestry service real alarm.

"Reports from the various districts," says the fire bulletin, "indicate that a dangerous fire situation is developing thoroughout the Province."

Up to the end of last week ninety-five fires had been reported but this number was increased by more than a score over the week-end. So far there have been eleven fires in Cariboo district; twenty-eight in Cranbrook; Kamloops, thirteen; Nelson, twenty; Prince George, seventeen. Vancouver, including Vancouver Island, seventeen, and Vernon, ten. In all these districts the situation is reported to be "hazardous."

Unless rain falls during the next few days the situation in many parts will be critical, forest experts intimated to-day. They are hoping that the continued dry weather will cease shortly, thus relieving the parched woods.

BORDEN MAY AID IRISH SETTLEMENT

Belfast, May 12—The London correspondent of The Northern Whig says he is informed in official quarters that Sir Robert Borden, former Canadian Premier, has been requested by the British Government to act as chairman of the Irish Boundary Commission and that his conditional acceptance has been received.

DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER DISCUSS CIVIC FINANCES

Mayor Gives Information on Mill Rate

Information on the tax rate and levy which Victoria hopes to strike was given by Mayor Reginald Hayward at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day following a report by C. P. W. Schwengers on the recent conference of directors, aldermen and others interested on the Elk Lake Park scheme. A discussion on civic finances followed Mr. Schwengers' suggestion that the chamber appoint a committee to investigate civic finances to arrive at a more equitable basis of taxation.

Mr. Schwengers repeated the arguments advanced on that occasion, claiming that Victoria in the tourist business to its hilt must be prepared to liquidate its frozen asset. From the standpoint of developing the business it would be good policy on the part of the city to go ahead with Elk Lake Park. He urged that those who were able to do so should submerge self-interest for the future progress of the city. He advocated the formation of a committee to discuss the subject with the president of the company which had agreed to build a chalet.

He recommended the chamber in the interests of the city should take an interest in this matter, as if Victoria were not to maintain its parks and beaches in a manner that would create a good impression it was a strikingly bad advertisement for the city. Elk Lake Park, he cited as an attraction which would help Victoria to build up the tourist business.

Speaking on the subject, Ald. Todd said the city was faced with the position that unless new sources of revenue were forthcoming land and building taxes must be increased. He supported the Publicity Bureau and Elk Lake development because he believed they would increase revenue to an extent where the merchants who derived benefit could pay the increased taxes and relieve the burden on the rest of the people. Linked up with the subject was the necessity of closer co-operation with the municipalities and the City of Victoria.

Mr. Schwengers said that under the present system it might be possible seventy-five per cent. of the wealth of the city would not pay five per cent. the taxes. It was advisable to endeavor to arise at a more equitable basis of taxation to cover expenditures such as Elk Lake Park and the maintence of parks and beaches.

Mayor Reginald Hayward said he believed the appropriation for the upkeep of parks and beaches would be as great this year as last year. The council had hoped to get some relief from the Provincial Government, and had they done so, hoped they would have brought down the mill rate to 41½, but as they had not succeeded, the mill rate, he hoped, would be 43.67 with the same levy as last year. The levy for last year, he assured them, would not be a cent larger than last year, although the mill rate would be higher. It was highly advisable that Victoria could announce a lower mill rate without any increase in levy.

A motion of J. O. Cameron that the directors go on record as approving a 50 per cent. rate on local improvements instead of 33⅓ per cent., was carried.

MAY QUEEN CONTEST IN SECOND WEEK

Lively Finish is Expected For Coronation Honors

Only two queens had turned in votes since Saturday evening when the afternoon tally was made to-day, as a consequence of which Misses Wormald and Jewell are far in the lead. The queens will make an appearance at the Playhouse this evening, and patrons will have an opportunity of meeting them.

The standing at noon was as follows:

Miss Joyce Wormald, queen of state, 90,000.

Miss Mona Jewell, queen of benevolence, 65,000.

Miss May McAllister, queen of sport, 26,500.

Miss Lenora Barker, queen of progress, 24,000.

ASKS CHAMBER'S ASSISTANCE ON THE NAVY'S VISIT

With a total of $5,800 available to entertain 6,000 officers and men for five days and the personnel of the light cruiser squadron for ten days during the visit of the British Empire Service Squadron to Victoria, a communication from W. Miller Higgs, secretary of the entertainment committee, was before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

Mr. Higgs quoted the telegram from Hon. E. M. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence, stating that in view of the fact that the squadron was to formally visit Halifax and Quebec it was not thought wise for the Federal Government to make a special grant to any of these cities.

The sum of $5,800, Mr. Higgs pointed out, was made up of $3,000 fro mthe city, $300 from the municipalities, and $2,500 from the Provincial Government. Out of it organization expenses and decorations had to be met.

The chamber was asked to assist by getting members to approach merchants with the object of raising $1,000 to be devoted towards decorations.

FIVE FIRES FOLLOW DRY PERIOD WITH EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

Handsome Home of T. O. Mackay Suffers in Morning Blaze

Fire Chief Urges Extra Caution by Citizens

Following a period of dry weather the Victoria Fire Department fought five fires over the week-end.

Catching fire this morning from a chance spark, the home of T. O. Mackay, 1325 Fairfield Terrace, was badly damaged, a rough estimate of the loss reaching $3,500. The blaze was reported at 8.56 a.m. and when the engines responded it was to find the roof well alight.

The blaze put up stubborn opposition to the efforts of the city's fire force and gutted the roof completely before being brought under control. Engines responded from the headquarters and two district halls, fire crews staying on the scene for a period of three hours.

FIRE AT BUILDINGS

Fire in the kitchen and Sergeant-at-Arms' quarters of the Parliament Buildings at 8.30 on Saturday evening was caught and controlled before extensive damage had been done. The fire broke out in that portion of the building which is not protected by the May-Otway automatic alarm. An alarm turned in by hand, brought the engines to the scene in short order. The Provincial Library at the time was occupied by some 200 persons, attending a reunion of visiting pioneers.

On Sunday evening at 8.10 p.m. a beach fire at Horseshoe Bay, Dallas Road, brought out the engines. The blaze was checked without material damage resulting.

At 9.15 this morning the Victoria West and headquarters' fire crews were out again at a bush blaze at Esquimalt Road and Wilson Streets, where dry underbrush threatened to assume the proportions of a forest blaze. After a stiff fight the fire was controlled.

Again at 10.45 this morning the engines responded to an alarm at Dallas Road and Niagara Street where burning brush gave some alarm.

Fire Chief Vernon Stewart draws attention to the necessity for extra caution in the dry period now prevailing. When warm winds sweep the city the danger from sparks is great on account of the long life of the vagrant spark as compared to its sudden cooling in colder weather. The underbrush, too, has been dried out, while the roof and walls of shingled dwellings are in a very dry state.

PIONEER PASSES SUDDENLY AT FIRE

Heart Failure Brought on by Shock Occasions Sudden Death of George T. Fox

Overcome by heart failure immediately after being hurried from the Parliament Buildings, during a fire scare on Saturday at 8.30 p.m., George Thomas Fox, one of Victoria's best known pioneers, succumbed in the arms of members of his family with tragic suddenness. The late Mr. Fox, with his wife and three sisters had attended the reception to Pioneers, given by the B. C. Historical Association in the Provincial Library.

One hour after the function opened a slight fire in an upper story occasioned alarm, and the guests were marshaled from the building. Mr. Fox collapsed just as he reached the open air, and all efforts to revive him were fruitless. Dr. J. H. Moore, summoned from the crowd, pronounced the sufferer beyond human aid. His untimely death, at the age of fifty-six, occasioned widespread regret in the circle of pioneer friends met to recall old times in the life of British Columbia's progress.

Mr. Fox was born and educated in Victoria, and the business his father established in 1856 has been in the hands of this pioneer virtually since he was out of school. While he was receiving an education his mother and sisters were the trustees of the business, and now his son, George Fox, at present with his mother in Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, will take over the management, together with W. B. Christopher, who has been working with the late Mr. Fox for many years past.

Mr. Fox was appointed a member of the original committee to welcome and arrange for the entertainment of the old-timers during their reunion festivities here, but owing to ill health had to resign from these responsibilities. As a past chief factor of the Native Sons of Canada he was interested in the pioneer reunion movement, and as a pioneer himself, as well as a native son, exerted himself to the utmost to make the occasion of the old-timers' coming a success.

Beaumont Boggs, vice-president of the British Columbia Historical Society, announced this morning that members of the Native Sons of Canada branch in this city would be asked to attend the funeral of the pioneer. Further announcements as to this last tribute to the well-known citizen will be made shortly. Word from his son in the Yukon is momentarily expected.

For the past three weeks Mr. Fox had been in poor health but on Saturday was feeling better than for some time past. He, with the family, attended the Lieutenant-Governor's reception in the afternoon, and the Pioneers' reunion as guests of the B.C. Historical Association on Saturday evening.

He is survived by his widow and one son, George E. Fox, of Whitehorse; one daughter, Miss Isobel Fox, living at the family residence, 1131 Collinson Street, and three sisters, all living in Victoria, Mrs. W. J. Sutton, Miss Catherine G. Fox and Miss H. A. Fox.

Mr. Fox was a member of the Masonic craft, being a past master of Victoria Lodge 43, and a member of the Odd Fellows' order.

The regular monthly meeting of the local board of the W.O.N. will be held on Tuesday, May 13, at 2.30 p.m. at 1115 Collinson Street.

The 50th Anniversary Of Fletcher Bros.

1874 — 1924

Mid-May, 1874, saw the establishment of the small music goods store which is to-day the House of Fletcher Bros., one of the largest concerns of its kind in the whole Dominion of Canada.

Retrospection back through the half a century which has passed reveals in the affairs of Fletcher Bros. a gradual and steady growth—a growth which is paralleled in the development in this splendid city of ours. Victoria has grown because it possesses many natural advantages. It has progressed because the men who laid the foundations were pioneers of a type of which any city might well be proud.

Mr. T. W. Fletcher, Sr., founder of the House of Fletcher Bros., now retired from business these many years, still enjoys good health, and to the pioneers who are celebrating a reunion in the city this week he extends the hand of greeting and a word of welcome.

FRUIT MEN PROTEST TAX ON FRUIT TREES

Protest against the taxation of fruit trees in the interior was registered by a delegation of fruitgrowers from Kelowna who met Premier Oliver this morning. The Premier promised consideration of their representations and intimated that he felt that their case had a good deal of merit in it.

The fruit men also asked a five-year extension in the time during which they must pay money due on irrigation borrowings. The Premier said that if the necessity for such an extension developed it would be granted.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late One Fook Chin took place this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Interment was made in the Chinese Cemetery.

Th eremains of the late Clifford N. Neil, aged twenty-one years, will be laid at rest in Colwood Cemetery tomorrow afternoon. Services will be held at the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock.

Word has been received in the city of the death on April 26 at Rigaud, Montreal, of Joseph Seguin, who for thirty-five years was a resident of Victoria. He resided at 1317 Cook Street until leaving for the East in November last year. Mr. Seguin was ill for several weeks before his death. He was a member of the I.O.O.F.

The remains of the late Rev. George Wesley Johnson are reposing at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, from where the funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock and fifteen minutes later service will be held at the Wesley Methodist Church, McPherson Avenue, when the Rev. J. F. Dimmick will officiate, after which the remains will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

There passed away yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 225 Skinner Street, Mrs. Frances Jane Hardy, aged sixty-eight years, a native of New York State and a resident of this city for the past twenty-five years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Mr. W. J. Hardy. She was a member of the Maccabees. The remains are reposing at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, pending funeral arrangements, which will be announced later.

The death took place last Saturday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of John James Duckworth, aged sixty-five years. He was born in England and had been a resident of this city for the past twelve years, residing with his daughter, Mrs. Percy Wheeler, 3007 Scott Street. The late Mr. Duckworth is survived by his daughter of the above address, two other daughters of this city, and a daughter in Trail, B.C.; also one son in Detroit, Michigan. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2.30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Word has been received in the city of the death at Fort William, Ont., of Dan McTavish, aged eighty-six years, a pioneer of Bruce County, Ontario. His wife predeceased him in Victoria three years ago. Three sons and seven daughters are left to mourn his passing—Duncan at Pitt Meadows, John at Vancouver, James at Victoria, Mrs. A. Lamont, Port Elgin, Ont.; Mrs. W. MacRae, Shelton, Wash., U.S.A.; Mrs. Thomas Stout, Owen Sound, Ont.; Mrs. W. Skillings, Victoria; Mrs. J. R. Wells and Mrs. D. Anderson, Fort William; Mrs. McMillan, Detroit, Mich. The remains will be sent to Vancouver for interment.

There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends at the funeral on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Clara Annie Harvey, wife of Alderman John Harvey. The cortege left the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock, proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral where service was conducted by Right Rev. Bishop Schofield, assisted by Rev. F. H. Patt. The Royal Society of St. George, Ladies' Auxiliary W.C.T.U. and other women's organizations were represented, and Mayor Hayward and other members of the City Council were also present. Many beautiful floral tributes covered the casket and hearse. The surpliced choir was in attendance, and the hymns sung were the 90th Psalm, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "The Saints of God." The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. W. J. Alder, W. C. Crockett, W. B. Deaville, E. E. Heath, W. S. Miles and W. H. Gee. The remains were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

GYROS WATCH ROOF PAPER TURNED OUT

Members of the Gyro Club were guests to-day of the Sidney Rubber Roofing Company. After luncheon at the Hudson's Bay the members motored to the plant on the Songhees Reserve and watched the process of paper manufacture from the time the old rags were tossed into the beaters until it came out of the tar-baths, passed through the powder tank and came out the finished product.

Just as the Gyros were coming away the box from one of the beaters was brought out and dumped and the greatest collection of buttons, pins and what-nots was revealed. The beaters tear the clothes to pieces and the buttons and other foreign substances sink and settle into the boxes which are drained every day.

One day the beaters revealed a torn gold necklace. The men who dump the beaters always made a thorough search to see if any coin have been pulled from the clothes.

A party of local Gyros will leave for Everett on Saturday to attend the installation there of the Everett Gyro Club.

AT THE THEATRES

Jack London's Novel of North Stirs at Royal

Is Canine Picture of Unequalled Merit and Appeal

Like the immortal story from which it was filmed, Director Fred Jackman has created in Hal Roach's production of "The Call of the Wild," which is the attraction at the Royal Theatre all this week, on whose wings of popularity Jack London started his ascent to the pinnacle of literary fame, a masterpiece of screen technique, which will long live in the memory of Victoria theatre-goers as a dog picture of unequalled merits.

Who among Jack London's legion of admirers has not thrilled to the story of Buck, that gloriously coated half St. Bernard and shepherd dog who invades the land of "club and fang" as a sled animal during the hectic days of the Klondike gold rush?

Reared in the gentle atmosphere of children this huge, docile animal is snatched from the heart of civilization and flung into primitive surroundings where might is right, the strong survive and the weak perish.

Buck survived in this rugged land, but the influence of nature is compelling and the great dog passed into the inheritance of his wild forefathers who raced before him in the wolf packs of the forest.

Hal Roach takes great pride in presenting Buck—Buck is his real name— a new star to make his debut on the screen. Buck is Mr. Roach's protege, having been reared from a puppy by the producer especially to take the lead in "The Call of the Wild."

Walter Long is excellent as the character whom Buck knows as "the man with the club." Jack Mulhall is manly as Buck's pal. Others in the cast are Laura Roessing, Sydney D'Albrook and Frank Butler.

Romance and Mystery Appear in Columbia Film

"Just Off Broadway" is Presented as Study of Criminal Life

International intrigue in which the American secret service plays a brilliant part, furnishes the basis for the William Fox production "Just Off Broadway," an entertaining picture which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre. John Gilbert has the leading role and he handles it with his usual grace. Marian Nixon, as the destitute little show girl, is superb.

The story concerns a girl who finds herself innocently allied with a band of crooks, one of them, a woman, has befriended her. The action moves from New York to Paris and back again, with a man she believes to be one of the crooks always singling her out for his attentions. And in spite of the life she believes he leads, the girl loves him. The strange fact is that he believes the same of her and has hopes of reforming her. The man in reality is a secret service agent.

How they finally straighten out the tangle of their lives and end the activities of the crooks, goes to make a most interesting picture, which is strengthened by the work of Gilbert and Miss Nixon, supported by a capable cast. Ben Hendricks, Jr., Trilby Clark and Pierre Gendron deserve particular mention and the direction by Edmund Mortimer has been well done.

The story was written by Frederick and Fanny Hatton, masters of the drama as it should be done for the screen.

Scenes of New York and Paris are particularly excellent and the life of Broadway in the "Roaring Forties" is portrayed with intense realism. Obviously, with secret service operatives and the most desperate type of criminal known to international police, figuring in nearly every scene, the picture is as full of stirring action as it is of romance.

Royal Symphonic Dance Orchestra at Music Lovers' Night

The programme of music arranged by A. Prescott, director of the Royal Symphonic Dance Orchestra this week, will indeed be a novelty. For some time he has been arranging the latest popular numbers so that each one will be a novelty in itself. This is a new departure in music in this city and will no doubt be welcomed by theatre-goers. A few of the numbers to be rendered during the evening will be as follows: "I Love You," "No, No, Nora," "Sunflower Maid," "Broken Hearted Melody," "Never Again," "Half Past Ten," "A Smile Will Go A Long Way."

Although these numbers have been heard in this city before by different dance orchestras, the interpretation of same will be entirely new.

Fox Picture at The Playhouse Deals With Prison Reform

"Boston Blackie" Was Adapted From Magazine Story

At the Playhouse "Boston Blackie" is presented with William Russell, Fox star, in the title role. Here is a dramatic offering that shows methods of prison punishment existent today which should have been abolished when the Spanish Armada was destroyed. There is action, plenty of it, and a whole raft of thrills. The film is as full of suspense as a door bell battery is full of rings.

Russell portrays a man of great courage who wins the devoted love of a charming girl, enacted by Eva Novak. "Boston Blackie" was adapted from Jack Boyle's widely read magazine story, "The Water Cross." If you like whole boat-loads of excitement go to the Playhouse. But be sure you hold your chair arms while you watch the picture.

To-night the Playhouse Theatre will be the scene of the initial performance of this week's production "Nothing But the Truth." As the name suggests this play is a comedy. Imagine the situations that might occur if you started out to tell all your friends what you really thought of them and this will give you a slight of what "Nothing But the Truth" has to offer.

Onwegos Held Memorial Service

An impressive memorial service was held yesterday afternoon when a large and representative number of the members of the Onwego Young Men's Bible Class of First Presbyterian Church gathered at Ross Bay Cemetery to honor the memory of their departed comrade, Leslie Carter.

William Straith addressed the gathering in a few well-chosen words in which he touched on the life led by Leslie Carter and the challenge it had had thrown out to those left behind.

Prayer was offered by the veteran class leader, R. G. Howell.

The class tribute, a large and beautiful wreath typifying the unity of the class, was placed on the grave by the president, Walter Yeamans. There were also many individual floral offerings from the members of the class.

Radio Fans Band Together in New Association Here

Officers of the newly formed Radio Club of Victoria were elected late last week at a meeting of this body at the Y.M.C.A., and were as follows: President, Harold Grant; vice-president, Mrs. M. R. Jamieson; secretary, Alex. T. Stewart; treasurer, J. W. Bolden; executive committee, W. S. Smith, J. Dunlop and W. Walsh.

The club has been organized to assist in every way possible the amateur radio fans in the problems which they face from time to time, and to work for the upkeep of the high standard of broadcast programmes.

The by-laws and constitution of the organization were drawn up at the meeting, and it was decided that meetings should be held in future on the first Friday of each month.

Superb Portrayal is Given in Chief Role of Hugo's "Hunchback"

Stupendous Production is Made of Famous Story, Now Appearing at Dominion

According to an announcement made in connection with Carl Laemmle's screen version of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," Lon Chaney is the best character actor in America to-day. I quote this, because I formed this opinion at least three years ago and I have never had reason to alter my opinion. Mr. Chaney has done the sort of work that has made screen acting a fine art. He has a technique that cannot be surpassed; he acts with intelligence that makes his work Mansfieldan, and it is probable that no one has ever exceeded him in the art of make-up.

These things have been brought home to us on many occasions, but never more strongly than this afternoon when "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" was given its first local showing at the Dominion Theatre. Here is a picture that is worthy of attention, for it has been screened so carefully it measures up so fully to one's expectations, that it comes near to occupying a place apart.

"The Hunchback" is a character study of the first water. The Cathedral is the most pretentious of the many settings and occupies a prominent place throughout the action. Other sets and scenes are of breathtaking immensity. Vaulted arches run back apparently hundreds of feet. The solemn air of the story is reverentially carried out. Director Wallace Worsley has done a rare bit of work. The picture sweeps from squalor to grandeur; from gilded ballrooms to dives and sewers of the underworld, always convincingly, always with force, above all—always superbly acted and directed.

Next to Chaney's "Quasimodo," undoubtedly the most striking figure in the film is Ernest Torrence's "Clopin, King of the Underworld." His impersonation is a masterstroke of acting. Patsy Ruth Miller was questioned as a choice for the role of "Esmeralda," but after one sees the production, all doubt as to the wisdom of the choice vanishes, in thin air. She is ideally cast and we predict great things for this talented young St. Louis girl in the future. Norman Kerry makes a handsome and dashing character in the part of Capt. Phoebus, who loves the fair Esmeralda, even though she be far below his station in life.

The story, briefly, takes place during the turbulent days of Louis XI, the ruthless ruler of France. It opens with a fool's festival in the public square in front of the Cathedral of Notre Dame. Quasimodo, disdainfully, watches the revelry from one of the church towers.

Jehan, who exercises a strong influence at first over Quasimodo, urges the hunchback to kidnap Esmeralda, a gypsy dancing girl. Esmeralda is rescued by Capt. Phoebus, who has fallen in love with her on seeing her in the square dancing. Quasimodo is captured and sentenced to be lashed in the public square.

After his beating, the hunchback, in agony from thirst, is given a drink by Esmeralda, whom he worships from that time on. His only other favorites are the bells of the Cathedral, the Cathedral itself, and its saintly archdeacon, Dom Claude. He has lost faith in Jehan. Later Phoebus is stabbed by Jehan while he sits with Esmeralda. The dancing girl is arrested for the crime and is about to be executed when the hunchback, seeing her in the hands of the executioners, rushes forth and carries her to safety within the walls of the church.

Clopin's followers now seek to rescue her and plan to take her back to the underworld. But Phoebus, now recovered, learns of her presence in the church and heads her rescue. The mob is held off by Quasimodo, who gives his life, however, in protecting Esmeralda from Jehan, who covets her. The final scene finds the happy Esmeralda and Capt. Phoebus in each other's arms, while the dying Quasimodo plays their happiness in chimes upon the Cathedral bells and then rings out his own funeral dirge.

LEARN TO TEACH BY EXPERIMENT

Head of Lincoln School of Teaching of Columbia University Arrives

The career of Dr. Otis W. Caldwell is well-known to science as a botanist, and author of books on science, but he now is winning laureals in the field of experimental education. Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell came back from the Orient on the liner President Jefferson on Saturday afternoon, where they had been on a visit, and where the doctor spoke to many educational bodies conferences on the development of educational life.

Seven years ago Dr. Caldwell was called from his professorial position at the University of Chicago to establish the Lincoln School of Education in connection with Columbia University. This institution is endowed under the General Education Board, to conduct experimentation in progressive education.

Dr. Caldwell told The Times that the school, after a thorough test of various methods of teaching, issues bulletins to teachers, who are asked to make tests themselves, and the results of all these efforts are co-ordinated until a system is devised with care, which will prove of the greatest value in making education effective, and securing better results in the teaching of young people.

This school operates on a unique pattern, teaching the children to think through doing, to do one thing thoroughly at a time, education through the eye as well as the ear, an education which opens the pupil's capacity to usefulness and to enjoy and makes of him in after life an all round efficient citizen.

Among the organizations which Dr. Caldwell addressed in the Orient were Boone University, Shanghai Public College, the Pekin Medical School, various American schools in the Orient, an international conference at Pekin, the Southeastern University Nanking, the Nanki at Tientsin, the Kiangsu provincial Chinese Educational Association at Shanghai, and generally he received a splendid welcome everywhere. He proceeded direct to New York.

SCOUTS CLEAN UP PICNIC RUBBISH

Aid in Preserving Natural Beauty of Victoria and District Picnic Camps

In fostering a progressive policy of community "good turns" scouts of the St. Michael's Troop were out on Saturday cleaning up rubbish left by picnickers at Mount Tolmie. The refuse was gathered into a bonfire and destroyed. When their work was done the scouts had the pleasure of seeing the site once more free from the odds and ends of paper left by careless outing parties.

In response to the committee in charge of the Victoria Day celebrations the Scouts of Victoria and District have offered to field fifty scouters to lend a hand wherever they are required on that day.

SCOUTS IN CAMP

The Fairfield Troop in camp made able use of the opportunity to study nature. Seventeen birds' nests were found, including fifteen made by pheasants. The scout report layings by these game birds of from twelve to twenty eggs to the nest. One nest was found in a disordered state as if someone had deliberately scattered the eggs. It was abandoned by the parent birds. Nests of the grouse and quail were also discovered, but in no case did the scouts attempt to interfere with the nests.

Woodcraft and cooking were featured by many troops in camp, each scouter learning to turn out a meal that would surprise many professional cooks. Hunters' stew, apple tart, beefsteak and kidney pie, cream potatoes, rice pudding, rhubarb pie, flap jacks, custard and even doughnuts figured on the menus prepared by some of the youthful campers.

The Third Troop spent the day at Mount Newton, where excellent scouting practice was secured under ideal weather conditions. The James Bay Troop camped at Beaver Lake were hikes, and woodcraft practice made the days in camp fly all too fast.

The local executive will meet tomorrow at the Provincial headquarters, Green Block, for important business. The Scouters Council meets this week on Wednesday at Provincial Headquarters.

The local association, while asking for suggestions as to what good turns the scouting organization may do for the district points out at the same time that it is not always possible to act on all suggestions received. Nevertheless if there is a service the scouts may perform, they are always anxious to bear of that opportunity.

GRATEFUL PARENTS POUR OUT THANKS TO TANLAC

Five in One Family Are Helped — Mother and Father Give Details

The value of Tanlac as a family medicine and tonic is again very forcefully demonstrated. This time in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kaake, 2436 Kirby Avenue, West, Detroit, Mich., where father and mother and every member of the family have been benefited by the wholesome and helpful ingredients of the famous preparation.

Recently in speaking for herself and children, Mrs. Kaake said: "For more than a year our three little ones, John, aged six, Elwyn, four, and Margarite, two, had been so peaked and lifeless that we were seriously worried about them. Their stomachs were upset, appetites poor, the color had left their cheeks, their nights were restless, and during the day they would just mope around, taking no interest in play or anything else.

"They began to eat and sleep better almost from the first dose of Tanlac, and have picked up now until you couldn't find three healthier or more active children in all Detroit. They eat ravenously, the color of health has returned to their cheeks, they just want to be on the go all the time. I have also taken Tanlac to build me up, and it never seems to fail."

"As to my personal experience with Tanlac," said Mr. Kaake, "I simply can't express in words the great help it gave me. About a year ago I was a victim of boils, actually having fifty-one on me, and was so played out that I couldn't do a bit of work for weeks. My suffering was almost unbearable. I cared little for food, suffered with severe headaches and stomach pains, and got so weak and nervous that I felt discouraged.

"Tanlac corrected my stomach disorders, woke up my appetite, cleansed my blood and tone up my system so that the boils went away, and nothing of the kind has bothered me since. I have gained twenty-eight pounds, and eat, sleep and feel like a brand new man. We have given Tanlac a fair trial, and found it wonderful, and if anyone doubts our statement they can write personally. We wouldn't think of being without Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40,000,000 bottles sold.

The HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME

EPOCHAL! BRILLIANT! VAST! GLORIOUS! COLORFUL! LAVISH!

Like a twidal wave it has swept the country, leaving behind it such an impression as was never before created by a motion picture. For in it are all the things the whole world wants to see. There is love, and beauty, and adventure, and magnificence, and a whole army of thrills; everything needed, in fact, to transport you from this humdrum workaday age back to the days of romance, when cities were sacked and men fought and died for a woman's smile. All the splendor of which Victor Hugo wrote, lavishly and authentically reproduced.

You must see this picture! For until you do, you will never realize the magnificent heights to which a production can attain.

Green Room Notes

The Players' Club of the University of British Columbia will now go on tour through the Province. While an endeavor is made to visit as many centres as possible, there have been so many applications that three cities have been unable to secure the players. The selection this year, "The World and His Wife," has already been produced in Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo. It will reach Victoria at the end of this month.

The Selwyns have been bringing to a close the tours of their various companies that have been appearing all season in the Channing Pollock wonder-play, "The Fool." The last three of these companies end their tours during this month, one closed in Fort Wayne, Ind., on May 10, another will close in Rochester, N.Y., May 17, and the last one in Omaha the last day of the month.

L. Lawrence Weber, who has successfully produced "Little Jessie James," at the Little Theatre; "Moonlight," at the Longacre Theatre; New York's reigning musical comedy hits, and "Cobra," the dramatic sensation at the Hudson Theatre, has accepted a new comedy by William Le Baron, titled "My Man" which will be produced during the last weeks in August. Le Baron wrote the book of "Moonlight" and other musical comedies and "My Man" is his first straight comedy. The play is to be staged by William B. Friedlander.

"The Goose Hangs High," the first production by the newly organized Dramatists' Theatre, Inc., a group of prominent and successful playwrights, has entered its fourth month at the Bijou Theatre, New York, where it has become established as the outstanding hit of the 1924 season on Broadway.

Here is a play that came into New York practically unheralded, and from its first performance last January "caught on" with the public and has remained to be seen by crowds that are measured only by the capacity of the theatre where it is housed. The success of this play seems all the more unusual since it was brought forth by an entirely new producing unit, whose plans were more or less of an experiment in the theatre.

Edward Childs Carpenter, president of the Dramatists' Theatre, Inc., and chairman of the advisory board, has announced a special company to tour the principal cities in "The Goose Hangs High," in order that other audiences may have an opportunity to see the kind of play the dramatists have chosen as their first offering, and to give the public an idea of the standards this organization intends to maintain in all of its productions.

A French season for two weeks is to begin at the New Oxford Theatre, London, England, on May 26. Mlle. Cecile Sorel and members of the company from the Comedie Francaise are to appear there in five plays—Moliere's Le Misanthrope and Les Precieuses Ridicules, Augier's L'Avenutriere, a French version of The Taming of the Shrew, Dumas's La Dame aux Camelias, Merimee's Le Carosse du Saint Sacrement, and Andre Pascal's Quand On Aime. Mlle. Sorel also hopes to give at reduced prices, for the benefit of schools and universities, selections from Tartufe, Le Mariage de Figaro, and Marion de Lorme.

Mack Sennett announces two new Ben Turpin burlesques to go into production in the near future.

One will be a travesty on Romeo and Juliet, with Natalie Kingston playing the role of the ill-fated heroine. Ben's Romeo is expected to give the critics and Shakespeare lovers something to think about.

Following Romeo and Juliet, a burlesque on Elinor Glynn's "Three weeks" will go into production, with Ben in the role of Paul and Madeline Hurlock as The Lady. The comedy will be called "Two and a Half Weeks."

Cecil De Mille's Picture is Marvel of Realistic Art

"Male and Female is Now Appearing at Capitol

Genuineness and absolute realism are two factors in the enormous success which Cecil B. De Mille has attained as a motion picture director. These qualities are present in "Male and Female," Mr. DeMille's latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, which was adapted from Sir James M. Barrie's famous play, "The Admirable Crichton" and will be on view at the Capitol Theatre this week. It is Mr. DeMille's desire that every property or furnishing used in his productions be the best that can be bought. Properties used in his latest picture total thousands of dollars in value. One set alone cost five hundred dollars, and the gorgeous gowns worn by Gloria Swanson, Lila Lee and Bebe Daniels, who are in the cast, are worth a handsome price.

The story of Crichton, the butler in the family of English nobles who was wrecked with his master's yachting party at sea and became their leader, has long delighted thousands. Under the master hand of Cecil DeMille it is a screen masterpiece. Thomas Meighan plays the leading role, and Theodore Roberts, Raymond Hatton and Guy Oliver are included in the cast.

INTERNATIONAL EVENT STAGED BY LOCAL MOOSE

One of the most notable events ever held in fraternal circles of this city took place in the K. of P. Hall on Friday evening last when forty candidates from Friday Harbor, Washington, and a large number from Victoria were created Loyal Moose by the officers of Victoria Lodge No. 1890. In all about 300 members were present to witness the unique event and of this number 104 came across from San Juan Island by special steamer chartered for the occasion, and representatives were also on hand from Vancouver, Seattle and Prince Rupert lodges. The large hall was prettily decorated with the Canadian and American emblems and the proceedings were opened with the playing of the National Anthem of both countries by the Moose Band, which gave a real international touch to the affair. Those responsible for the ritualistic work were Brothers Copeland, Shepheard, Taylor, Ziegler, Kettle, Leask and Ross, all of whom carried out their duties in a capable manner, and a speech by Brother Dictator Copeland, befitting the occasion, was enthusiastically received. Thanks were extended to Victoria Lodge by Brother Secretary Roark on behalf of Friday Harbor Lodge, and a pressing invitation given to join the members of that body in a picnic to be held at San Juan during the Summer. A delightful supper served in the lower hall by a committee of the Women of Mooseheart Legion followed the initiation ceremonies and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The smoking concert after supper was appreciated.

Those assisting in the programme were Brother Frank Merryfield, conjuring; Brother Lupton, recitation; Brother Rogers, cornet solo; Dave Dumbleton and Joe Ramsey, comic songs; G. Potter, solos, Brother S. Fenton, accompanist.

The departure of the visitors by tally-hos at 1 a.m. for Sidney to connect with their boat at 2 a.m. for home, wound up an event long to be remembered.

The social committee under the chairmanship of Brother Cliff Foxall are to be congratulated for the efficient manner in which the entertainment side of the affair was put over.

FAMOUS SAUCE MANUFACTURER VISITS THE CITY

Head of Lea and Perrins, of Worcester, England, Here

Head of the world famous sauce manufacturing firm of Lea & Perrins of Worcester, England, C. W. Dyson Perrins was in the city during the week-end.

It is not many firms which after operating for a century as a proprietary organization with two families solely interested, is able to declare itself expanding just as rapidly as ever, and as ambitious for sustaining a high standard of product as this firm. There is another aspect also with regard to these proprietary firms, that the staff remains for generation to generation, owing to direct contact with the management, and Mr. Perrins was able to inform The Times to-day that he has with him in his factory employees of the second and third generation.

The firm has world-wide connections, and Mr. Perrins is now travelling with his New York representative throughout the continent. Having completed an exhaustive trip in the United States, he will next go East through Canada.

The Perrins, Mr. Perrins and his two sons, are now the sole proprietors of the business, and Mr. Perrins is well-known in his own locality as a phelanthropist, and citizen of great public spirit; in fact for several generations the firm has been recognized for its liberal atitude to the locality where it manufactures.

Mr. Perrins lives at Malvern, a popular watering place eight miles from the scene of his factory.

The party left for Vancouver this afternoon.

TOLL TELEPHONES APPEAR WARRANTED

Committee Reports to the Chamber of Commerce

Will Enable More to Use Service

The proposal of the B.C. Telephone Company to include the Cedar Hill and Cadboro Bay districts under the Gordon Head telephone exchange and toll system appears quite warranted, in the opinion of a Chamber of Commerce committee appointed to gather information on the matter.

The committee reported that the proposed chance will bring about a reduction in the basic rate from $3.40 to $1.50 per month and as in the Colquitz district this will result in the monthly cost to the average subscriber being reduced. It was mentioned that from physical observation the boundary decided upon, namely, Cedar Hill Road and Bay Road is the only natural boundary dividing the districts from Victoria.

The committee was assured that there was no intention on the part of the company to ultimately change the present system enjoyed by the Esquimalt and Oak Bay districts, though increased development in these two areas might result in the installation of district exchanges purely for purposes of accommodation but without the introduction of the toll system.

The action contemplated, the committee reported, will enable a greater number to avail themselves of telephone service.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily Churns The Butter

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By Howard R. Garis

One day Nurse Jane called to Uncle Wiggily as he was sitting on the front porch of his bungalow, doing nothing but twinkle his pink nose.

"Are you soon going adventuring?" asked the muskrat lady.

"Very soon now," answered the rabbit gentleman. "I was just waiting to see which way the wind is going to blow. I don't want to get dust in my eyes."

Just then the wind began to blow from the North and Uncle Wiggily said:

"I shall hop to the South, then the wind will be at my back."

"Good!" squealed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "South is just where I was going to ask you to go, for there is where Mrs. Moo, the cow lady lives, and I would like you to get some butter from her."

"I'll do that," promised Uncle Wiggily. "How much better do you want?"

"About a pound and a half," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "And ask her to give it to you nice and fresh."

"I'll do that, too," promised the bunny uncle and away he started with the north wind at his back blowing him toward the South, and with his pink nose twinkling.

Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily reached the stable where Mrs. Moo, the cow lady, lived in the straw and hay.

"Have you any butter for Nurse Jane?" asked the bunny uncle.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" groaned the cow lady most sadly.

"What's the matter?" the bunny wanted to know.

"I am so sorry I have no butter," answered Mrs. Moo.

"I started to churn some of my milk into butter, but I have such a headache I can't go on. The cream is in the churn but there is no one to jiggle the dasher up and down to make the butter come."

"Perhaps I can do that," said Uncle Wiggily. "I am a pretty good jiggler."

Uncle Wiggily began to jiggle the churn handle.

"You may try if you like," said Mrs. Moo. She led Uncle Wiggily into her stable and there, in the middle of a room, was the churn, like a slender barrel, with a broom handle sticking up in the middle.

"That's the handle of the dasher," said Mrs. Moo. "If you jiggle it up and down long enough the butter will come out of the milk and make itself into a golden yellow ball. Then you may take what Nurse Jane wants."

So Uncle Wiggily began to jiggle the churn handle up and down.

"Chug! Chug! Chugity-chug!" went the dasher in the churn. At first there were little golden yellow specks of cream. And the longer Uncle Wiggily churned the larger the specks became until, gathering together, they formed into a large lump of yellow butter.

"It's getting harder to jiggle," said the bunny, after a while.

"Then the butter has come and I will take it out," said Mrs. Moo whose headache was better since she could sit in an easy chair and watch Uncle Wiggily churn.

The cow lady took from the churn a golden ball of sweet butter. She cut off a pound and a half for Nurse Jane.

"Now don't lose it whatever you do," she told Uncle Wiggily, as she wrapped the butter in a napkin for him.

"I'll try not to," said the bunny, and as he hopped out of the stable he slipped and nearly fell. He looked down and saw that he had slipped on a little butter that had fallen outside the churn.

"Butter is very slippery," said the bunny.

"Indeed it is," said Mrs. Moo. "And thank you for churning for me, Uncle Wiggily."

"You are welcome," spoke the bunny.

He was hopping along through the woods on his way back to his hollow stump bungalow. He was thinking that as yet he had had no adventure, when all of a sudden out from behind the sassafras bush popped the Bob Cat.

"What have you there?" howled the Bob Cat, seeing the butter in Uncle Wiggily's paws.

"I am not going to tell you," said the bunny, and he ran on as fast as he could hop. But the Bob Cat ran after the rabbit, and was almost catching up to him when Uncle Wiggily thought to himself.

"Butter is slippery. I slipped on it. Now if I could make the Bob Cat slip on it maybe he couldn't catch me! I'll do it!"

The rabbit was a little way ahead of the Bob Cat. Stopping and opening the napkin of butter Uncle Wiggily spread some on the path along which the Bob Cat would soon come. Then wrapping up the butter Uncle Wiggily hopped on.

"I'll get you! I'll get you!" howled the Bob Cat, running very fast. But when he reached that part of the path where the butter was spread, his feet slipped from beneath him and down he fell, very hard, bumping his nose. "Oh, ouch!" howled the Bob Cat. "It must be getting Winter again, for here is a very slippery slide! Oh, my nose! What a bump!"

He was so lame and stiff he couldn't run after Uncle Wiggily and longer and the bunny safely reached his bungalow with the butter—all except the little bit he had spread on the path. But Nurse Jane said she didn't mind that as long as Mr. Longears was saved.

Now, if the looking glass doesn't make faces at itself so the goldfish laughs in its sleep, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Cheer Up.

NEW SERIAL STORY

The Black Gang

By CYRIL McNEILE, "Sapper"

Author of "Bull-dog Drummond," "No Man's Land," etc.

"He's an extraordinary fellow, McIver," said Sir Bryan, glancing at the sleeper with a smile. "I've known him ever since we were boys at school. And he's note quite such a fool as he makes himself out. You remember that extraordinary case over the man Peterson a year or so ago. Well, it was he who did the whole thing. His complete disability to be cunning utterly defeated that master-crook, who was always looking for subtlety that wasn't there. And of course his strength is absolutely phenomenal."

"I know, sir," said McIver doubtfully, "but would he consent to take on such a job—and do exactly as he was told?"

They were both looking out of the window, while in the room behind them the heavy breathing of the sleeper rose and fell monotonously. And when the whole audience is asleep it ceases to be necessary to talk in undertones. Which was why Sir Bryan and the Inspector during the next ten minutes discussed certain matters of import which they would not have discussed through megaphones at the Savoy. They concerned Hugh and other things, and the other things particularly were of interest. And they continued discussing these other things until, with a dreadful noise like a racing motor back-firing, the sleeper sat up in his chair and stretched himself.

"Tumkins," he cried. "I have committed sacrilege. I have slept in the Holy of Holies. Have you decided on my fate? Am I to be shot at dawn?"

Sir Bryan left the window and sat down at his desk. For a moment or two he rubbed his chin thoughtfully, with his left hand, as if trying to make up his mind; then he lay back in his chair and stared at his erstwhile fag.

"Would you like to do a job of work, old man?"

Hugh started as if he had been stung by a wasp, and Sir Bryan smiled.

"Not real work," he said reassuringly. "But by mere luck last night you saw something which Inspector McIver would have given a good deal to see. Or to be more accurate, you saw some men whom McIver particularly wants to meet."

"Those blokes in the car you mean?" cried Hugh brightly.

"Those blokes in the car," agreed the other. "Incidentally, I may say there was a good deal more in that little episode than you think; and after consultation with McIver I have decided to tell you a certain amount about it, because you can help us, Hugh. You see you're one up on McIver; you have at any rate seen those men and he hasn't. Moreover, you say you could recognize two of them again."

"Good heavens! Tumkins," murmured Hugh aghast, "don't say you want me to tramp the streets of London looking for them."

Sir Bryan smiled.

"We'll spare you that," he answered. "But I'd like you to pay attention to what I'm going to tell you."

Hugh's face assumed the look of intense pain always indicative of thought in its owner.

"Last night," began Sir Bryan quietly, "a very peculiar thing happened to McIver. I won't worry you with the full details, and it will be enough if I just give you a bare outline of what occurred. He and some of his men in the normal course of duty surrounded a certain house in which were some people we wanted to lay our hands on. To be more accurate there was one man there whom we wanted. He'd been shadowed ever since he'd landed in England that morning, shadowed the whole way from the docks to the house. And sure enough when McIver and his men surrounded the house, there was our friend and all his pals in one of the downstairs rooms. It was then that this peculiar thing happened. I gather from McIver that he heard the noise of an owl hooting, also a faint scuffle and a curse. And after that he heard nothing more. He was chloroformed from behind, and went straight out of the picture."

"And this is where you come in, Hugh," continued Sir Bryan.

"Me!" Hugh sat up abruptly. "Why me?"

"One of the men inside the room was an interesting fellow known as Flash Jim. He is a burglar of no mean repute, though he is quite ready to tackle any sort of job which carries money with it. And when McIver, having recovered himself this morning, ran Flash Jim to ground in one of his haunts he was quite under the impression that the men who had doped him and the other officers were pals of Flash Jim. But after he'd talked to him he changed his mind. All Flash Jim could tell him was that on the previous night he and some friends had been discussing business at this house. He didn't attempt to deny that. He went on to say that suddenly the room had been filled with a number of masked men, and that he'd had a clip over the back of the head which knocked him out. After that presumably he was given a whiff of choloroform to keep him quiet, and the next thing he remembers is being kicked into activity by the policeman at——" Sir Bryan paused a moment to emphasize the point—"at Piccadilly Circus."

"Good Lord!" said Hugh dazedly. "Then that bird I saw last night sleeping it off on the pavement was Flash Jim."

"Precisely," answered Sir Bryan. "But what is far more to the point, old man, is that the two birds you think you would be able to recognize and who were in the car, are two of the masked men who first of all laid out McIver and subsequently surrounded Flash Jim and his pals inside."

"But what did they want to do that for?" asked Hugh in bewilderment.

"That is just what we want to find out," replied Sir Bryan. "As far as we can see at the moment they are not criminals in the accepted sense of the word. They flogged two of the men who were there last night, and there are no two men in England who more richly deserved it. They kidnapped two others, one of whom was the man we particularly wanted. Then to wind up, they planted Flash Jim as I've told you, let the others go, and brought McIver and all his men back to McIver's house, where they left them to cool on the pavement."

CAPT. R. A. BARTLETT WILL GO TO ARCTIC

Will Leave Seattle This Week in Steamer Bear to do Exploration Work

His Reports May Aid Polar Flight of Big U.S. Dirigible Next Year

Seattle, May 12.—Captain Robert A. Bartlett, famous Arctic explorer, commissioned by the National Geographic Society to gather data in the Far North in preparation for future aerial explorations in Arctic regions, arrived here yesterday to sail north on the coastguard cutter Bear, which will probably leave Thursday.

The Navy Department is co-operating with Captain Bartlett in his work, which will be of great value as a basis for mapping out a route for the navy dirigible Shenandoah if it attempts a flight across the Polar regions next year as now planned.

Capt. Bartlett says he will have constructed in Seattle next Summer a ship in which he proposes to drift across the unexplored regions north of Point Barrow.

IF IT'S VALUABLE IT'S "ADVERTISABLE"

New furniture, for the home or for the office or place of business, displaces the old—sometimes the almost new.

What to do with used things is a classified advertising problem. A "For Sale or Exchange" advertisement makes it possible for you to realize the cash values of such things—either in cash, or in other things which you may need.

These "For Sale" ads have a peculiar interest to people—for they often show opportunities to secure needed things, "good as new," at bargain prices.

Make your offer attractive and you'll find your market.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

SELLING PRESSURE IN NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

New York, May 12 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—There were a combination of factors at work in today's market which had the effect of unsettling to some extent sentiment, with the result that the declines were registered in practically all departments of the list.

The sharp decrease in the United States Steel tonnage figures and cut in crude oil prices were adverse influences for the day. The over-Sunday news touching on the tax question was not very encouraging. Quite a little scattering liquidation took place and the element bearishly inclined were quite active sellers in some of the leading industrial stocks. Some new low prices since the downward movement got under way were registered in stocks like Baldwin, U.S. Steel and other industrial issues. This, of course, was not without its effect on sentiment. While the market undoubtedly is in a strong technical position, it looks as though some constructive news will have to emanate from Washington in order to revive bullish activities.

PERSISTENT WEAKNESS IN NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 12 (By B.A. Bond)—Saturday's cut in crude oil prices, the big falling off in steel unfilled orders, uncertainty over bonus and taxation measures, French elections and further evidence of business curtailment all combined to give sellers the advantage in the stock market this morning. The whole session was a succession of selling waves, the cessation of which did not bring any rallies, only dullness. Reduction of petroleum in the Los Angeles basin was passed over unnoticed. A few dividend paying rails retained their strength, but they were issues in which there was practically no public interest. An interesting feature is that the break has made practically everyone bearish on the market, and the worst of it is that the tape continues to confirm such opinion. Steel, Baldwin and Studebaker made new lows for the year. While they are holding around the present low figures and not breaking through in volume it would seem reasonable to expect another concentrated drive against them.

Last sales were near the day's lows in the industrial list.

SMALL NET CHANGES IN CHICAGO GRAINS

Chicago, Ill., May 12. (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—Wheat—Weakness in corn was a big help for wheat bulls to-day and while declines were not especially large there was little aggressive buying and the market was narrow. The seaboard reported sales of 600,000 bushels durum wheat late Sunday for export and the cash markets generally continue firm while the visible stocks showed a decrease of 3,341,000 bushels.

This checked the selling to some extent. Washington news showed very little change in the general status of the situation.

Deliveries to-day were 53,000 bushels. Worlds shipments of 17,336,000 bushels caused a weaker tone abroad, Liverpool being ⅝ to ⅞ lower.

Wheather and crop news was not of a sort to incide much bullish enthusiasm and the market generally continue to suggest a narrow price course until there is a definite move at Washington. In the meantime, think wheat can be bought on the dips for quick turns.

Chicago, May 12 (By R. A. Bond).—Wheat futures went through the session again today with a change of less than a cent from high to low. The opening and closing quotations were just about an even break. Corn was a little more active, selling off a cent in the deferred deliveries and oats lost a small fraction. There was no important news regarding crops or the export situation. Clearances were about a fifth of what they were last year and primary receipts were about the same as last year. Shipments of wheat from primary points were below last year's. The movement of corn was comparatively small. The decline in Liverpool wheat was an influence at the opening and the market seemed to be quite weak just after the first sales, but support was forthcoming immediately and the half-cent rally was held to the close.

DURANT

Durant unit chassis construction is of immense importance—particularly in a closed car.

The rigid frame, re-enforced by the Durant Tubular Backbone, relieves the body of those strains which result in body squeaks that are so noticeable in closed cars of less firm construction.

Let a Durant dealer demonstrate.

PORTLAND CANAL

$500 invested in DUNWELL less than a year ago is worth $4,000 or $5,000 to-day, and will be worth $10,000 or more before another year. Good enough! We predict "Lakeview" will be the next Portland Canal Stock to soar.

1—Because ore is in place at 100-foot depth.
2—Because extremely rich ore is in place on surface.
3—Because this vein is extension of the Dunwell vein.
4—Because 350 feet of tunnel has been completed.
5—Because less than 300 feet drifting should tap this high grade shoot.
6—Because actual drifting will be under way by June 15.
7—Because trails, cabins, blacksmith shop, etc., are now ready.
8—Because success in Dunwell No. 4 tunnel alone will increase present value of Lakeview 100%.
9—Because location is right.
10—Because Management will be under experienced and successful engineer.
11—Because Organization is along lines which give a decent chance to the shares to increase in value as mine is developed.
12—Because the first issue of 100,000 shares at 25¢ will be placed by 25th instant, or sooner, and further issues will be made at much higher price.

These are a Dozen Other Good Reasons for Buying "Lakeview"—Call in and Discuss the Proposition.

"Advertising Is to Business as Steam Is to Machinery"
WOMEN! WON'T YOU HELP TO SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRIES?
If what you need is not made in Victoria, but elsewhere in B.C., then buy B.C. goods. If it is not made in B.C., but elsewhere in Canada, then buy Canadian-made goods. Remember, that when you buy imported goods it is true you get the goods BUT the other country gets the money. When you buy at home you receive the goods and your country receives the money. Watch this space for list of goods made in Victoria. It is the women largely who can make or break local industries.

TRUSTEES' BRANCH TO BE FORMED WEST OF VICTORIA

Final Dance Rally For Queen to be Held Friday

Special to The Times

Luxton, May 10.—A meeting was held in the Luxton Hall on Friday night to hear an address by Dr. Richard Felton, of Sooke. The meeting was well attended and much interest was aroused by Dr. Felton's address, and his report of the School Trustees' Convention attended by him, and from which he brought many valuable suggestions.

A discussion arose out of Dr. Felton's report regarding the advisability of forming a local trustees' association. It was pointed out by Trustee A. Hankin that the rural districts in that section, south of Victoria, were fairly compact and favorable to the formation of such an association. The discussion culminated in the decision to call a special meeting of the trustees of the various schools in that rural section to be held in the Luxton Hall on Monday, May 19, at 8.30 p.m., with the object of forming a local trustees' association. Dr. Felton received the thanks of the gathering for his excellent address and the trouble he had taken on behalf of the district. Refreshments were served by the Women's Institute.

The Luxton and Happy Valley child welfare class, known as the "Busy Bees," held an enjoyable meeting on Thursday afternoon in the Luxton Hall, when they played the role of hostesses to their parents and friends, of whom there was a large gathering.

The whole of the arrangements for the afternoon's entertainment were carried out by the young members of the class, and the general opinion was that as hostesses they excelled. Four large tables had been prepared for the purpose of refreshing their visitors with afternoon tea, all beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns, and each in an entirely different style. Miss Mamie Graham and Miss Hawkswood each rendered songs very acceptably, while little three-year-old Edna Lowrie delighted the gathering with her dancing. Concerted singing by the class made a complete and highly appreciated programme, and the adult visitors took leave of their young hostesses with many expressions of encouragement and satisfaction."

Metchosin District, May 12.—A meeting will be held on Wednesday next at Colwood Hall of the district float and queen contest committee. Final arrangements will be made for the final rally dance to be held on Friday night, when at midnight the contest will close and the Queen of Agriculture be announced. According to the latest reports the contest is running pretty close, though owing to the large number of members of each institute selling votes, it is impossible to arrive at an accurate report. Friday night's report showed Miss Agnes Murray, the Colwood candidate, to be slightly in the lead, of Miss Nancy Dunn, the Metchosin candidate, and Miss Margaret Dyer, the Luxton and Happy Valley candidate. Ray Kinloch's orchestra has been engaged to play for the dance, which being a district affair will no doubt be one of the events of the season, and the committee will spare no effort to make it so.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT AT VIMY HALL

Special to The Times

Duncan, May 12.—The concert given by Miss Monk's pupils in the Vimy Hall on Friday evening proved quite a success, and should add a few dollars to the piano fund. The children show marked improvement, and the action song, "Tennis," and character song, "The Death of Cock Robin," were exceptionally well done, and an encore demanded. Glady's Kirkham's duet with Miss Monk showed musical talent, also the violin solos by Beatrice Webber and Walter Curry. Rev. Bryce Wallace acted as chairman, and in a short and appropriate speech spoke of the importance of music in life, and complimented Miss Monk highly on the work she is doing. Two of the songs given, "Indian Love Song" and "Tennis" are by the Canadian poet, Wilson Macdonald.

The pupils taking part were: Piano, Gladys Kirkham, Doris Hadden and Audrey Richmond; violin, Beatrice Webber and Walter Curry; singing (girls), Dorothy Green, Alice Downes, Beatrice Webber, Alice Colk, Ena Mottishaw, Louise Buckmaster, Margaret Morford, Olive Mains, Kathleen McDonald, Bertha Droob, Patricia Carr-Hilton, Winnie Downes, Phyllis Colk, Audrey Richmond, Jean Stanhope, Helen Lemon, Florence Lemon, Hope Robson and Anna Hodge; boys, Walter Curry, Fred Waller, Jack Morford, Walter Morrison and Willie Morrison.

Delicious refreshments were served to all present by the ladies of the Vimy Hall committee, headed by Mrs. Curry and Mrs. Webber, and afterwards the children indulged in games and dancing until 11 o'clock, the evening ending with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," and the National Anthem.

PLAYS AT GANGES

Salt Spring Island, May 12.—Francis Compton and Company played in Mahon Hall, "A Little Bit of Fluff." The hall was packed, many people coming from the surrounding Islands. After the performance Mrs. S. Jones and Mrs. H. Johnson served refreshments. Some of the people stayed on and danced for which Mr. Elliot supplied the music.

The Ganges Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held a rummage sale in their rooms. The following had charge of the stalls. Plants and flowers, Mrs. Baker; home cooking, Mrs. Johnson; candy and books, Mrs. Speed; plain sewing, Mrs. F. Crofton and Mrs. D. Scott.

Tea was served in the Guild of Sunshine Room and was in charge of Mrs. F. Abbott.

USE DYNAMITE

Courtenay, May 12—Courtenay anglers paying a visit to one of their favorite haunts—Beaver Lake—were infuriated to find a cache of powder, caps and fuse there, says the Comox Argus. It was promptly destroyed and a close watch is being kept to catch the miscreant who has been dynamiting fish. Beaver Lake is one of the chain of lakes off the Campbell River and is full of fish. The party up there over the week-end came back with full creels. Dynamiting fish destroys all the life in that particular spot for years. Last year another of these prime fishing grounds in the Campbell Lake area was dynamited with the result that it it now valueless for piscatorial purposes. Fish have also been taken with dynamite out of two good holes on the Tolsum River.

PENDER ISLAND NEWS

(Special to The Times)

Pender Island, May 10.—Dr. J. W. McIntosh, nominee for the Provincial Party in the Islands constituency, has begun his campaign and on Thursday evening addressed a meeting of the electors in the Hope Bay hall. H. G. Scott presided and Commander Lewis and Alex. Hamilton spoke briefly before introducing Dr. McIntosh, who gave a very lengthy address on the work of the Third Party and criticized the present Government.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grimmer are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at the Ganges Hospital on April 29.

The Women's Missionary Society held their monthly meeting on Friday afternoon and elected Mrs. T. W. Fry vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of the president, Mrs. A. McMillan, until the end of the year. Mrs. Alder requested to be excused of this responsibility until her health improves. Much business was dealt with, including plans for the catering at the picnic on May 24.

TENNIS CLUB FORMED

Special to The Times

Shawnigan Lake, May 12.—Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wylde, of the Strathcona Lodge, it has become possible to start an up-to-date tennis club. The two courts at the Strathcona Lodge have been placed at the disposal of the club promoters, and a tennis club has been formed. The name adopted is "The Strathcona Tennis Club," and the club has the use of two courts. Over twenty members have already enrolled, and the lists are open for membership. At the formative meeting held at the Strathcona Lodge, Rev. W. G. Crewe was elected president, Miss Isabel Clark secretary-treasurer, with Miss Phillis Keene, Capt. Molesworthy and T. Skinner a committee. The probable date of the opening meet will be May 15.

The regular monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Wommen's Institute was held in the S.L.A.A. hall. A large volume of business came before the meeting. Every effort is being made to obtain an improved train service from Duncan to Victoria, and it is hoped that within a short time the E. & N. Railway will accede to the request for a gas train. Miss Clark gave a detailed account of the annual meeting of the Health Centre held at Duncan April 25. After a very refreshing tea served by Mrs. Eardley Wilmot and Mrs. Mason Hurley a splendid report of the Provincial Convention at Vancouver, April 22-24, was given by Mrs. Elford, delegate.

ARION CLUB CONCERT

Sidney, May 12—The Arion Club of Victoria, Canada's oldest and greatest male voice choir will be in Sidney at the Auditorium Theatre on Thursday, May 15. This concert will be under the auspices of the Sidney Board of Trade. The proceeds will be devoted to the Auto Park and Ferry Wharf Fund. In addition to this choir there will be several soloists.

The Phlox Family

A Group of Beautiful Flowers Which Offer Splendid Opportunities to the Amateur; Some of the Numerous Varieties Described

By John Hutchison, F.R.H.S.

While the Phlox family in some of its varieties is found in almost every garden, the splendid opportunities offered by this remarkable group probably are not fully appreciated by the average amateur. So varied and so easily grown are the different members of the group that they are well worth a little attention and study.

There are about twenty-seven species in this family and they are nearly all natives of North America the only exception being Phlox Siberica, which grows in North Eastern Asia.

About twelve of these species are, or have been, cultivated in gardens. The best known are the numerous varieties of Phlox decussata, the somewhat tall-growing border Phlox. These form beautiful subjects for planting either by themselves in a half shady situation or distributed in the perennial border. These, with Phlox maculata and Phlox glaberrima, form the taller-growing section of the genus.

The larger portion of the family are low-growing or trailing plants, many of them very beautiful and full of interest for the rock gardener.

The dwarfs are perfectly hardy but sometimes suffer from excessive damp in Winter and should, therefore, be given a well-drained position in the sun with light, rich soil. The low-growing kinds are the better for a top dressing of rich soil in the Fall. It should be worked well into the clumps.

Phlox Amoena—A well-known and charming dwarf plant with evergreen, hairy leaves and bright rose-colored flowers. The habit is prostrate and it blooms very profusely in the Spring. This plant has been in cultivation for over a hundred years and is a native of dry ridges in Virginia and other southern States. It is a fine Spring plant, either for the rock garden or Spring bedding, growing freely in any good soil.

A DISTINCT PHLOX

Phlox Divaricata—This is one of the most distinct of the phloxes, growing from a foot to eighteen inches in height. It is useful either for the border or the larger rock garden. Like many others of this family this kind likes a good, rich soil with lots of root run and it should be divided and transplanted often in September or March. The type has flowers of bluish lilac but there are varieties with pink and white flowers. It does not last long in flower and is the better for a little shade, being a native of the woods of Canada and the United States. It likes moisture.

Phlox Douglasii—This is the dwarfest of the phloxes and is a native of British Columbia. There is no better plant for the rock garden. It forms tufts of thickly-interlaced stems, covered with stiff, slender leaves. It is one of a set of dwarf-growing phloxes, found in the Rocky Mountains and other western chains. This group includes Phloxcaespitosa, P. canescens, P. bryoides and P. Hoodii, all of which are desirable plants but are not at present available for garden decoration. Phlox Douglasii is usually found growing in dry, rocky places on the mountain tops and its color varies in different localities from mauve or lilac, to white, with an occasional pink.

A COWICHAN NATIVE

A very good variety grows on the mountains near Cowichan Lake and is not hard to cultivate in Victoria. The best way to grow this plant is to place it in rather poor soil in the rock garden with a big stone over its roots to keep it moist in Summer.

Phlox Drummondii—This is the well-known, half-hardy annual which is much used for Summer bedding. It is a native of Texas and grows into a large plant, flowering in July, August and September. It should be sown under glass in the Spring and bedded out in May or June. It is quite one of the best annual flowers for the garden and may be secured in almost any color.

Phlox Glaberrima—A slender-growing species, a native of the prairies of the South Western States. It has narrow, glossy leaves and reddish purple flowers on stems about two feet high. There is a variety with rose-colored flowers which is rather more robust than the type.

Phlox Maculata—This is another slender-growing plant, a native of deep woods in the Southern States. It has rosy-purple flowers in July. It likes rich soil and moisture and grows about two feet high. It gets its name from the purple spots on its stems.

A VETERAN PHLOX

Phlox Ovata—A fine plant with fleshy leaves and smooth stems about nine inches high, with large rosy-purple flowers in Summer. It has been in cultivation for close upon two hundred years and is very hardy, doing well in strong, moist soil. This plant is very like Phlox Carolina, but the latter is not so hardy.

Phlox Decussata—This is the tall garden Phlox. There are hundreds of varieties and each year new ones are brought out. Among these varieties it is hard to make a selection. There is a collection in Nelson of some sixty varieties and when they are in bloom they form a sight not easy to forget. The type plant grows up to five feet in height and has rosy-purple flowers in August. There is also a splendid pure white.

MANY HYBRIDS

As has been said, there are hundreds of hybrids of all colors, and these vary in height and time of flowering. They all like a little shade as the colors last much better thus than in full sun. A few of the best are: Gruppen Konigen, flesh pink crimson centre; Europe, white with crimson eye; Coquelicot, orange-scarlet; Eugene Danzanvilliers, lilac and white; Elisabeth Campbell, salmon-pink with white centre; Eclaireur, purple-crimson, with white centre; Dr. Charcot, violet with white centre; Rijnstrom, salmon with white centre; Madame Paul Dutrie, lilac-rose, Selma, cherry red; Iris, blue-violet; Wanadis, mottled white and violet; Josephean Gerbeaux, white with crimson eye; and Antonia Mercie, lilac with white eye.

The border Phloxes are excellent plants to collect. They are easy to grow, very beautiful and very hardy. The type is a native of the Southern States and is generally found growing in open woodlands.

Phlox Pilosa—A slender-growing species about a foot high with purple flowers of large size. It varies a good deal in color and is found in sandy woods all over North America.

A ROCK GARDEN GEM

Phlox-Reptans—A plants of dwarf creeping habit with red flowers. It is very free-flowering in May and June and is a gem for the rock garden. It is a native of the woods in the Alleghany region of the United States.

Phlox Subulata — The creeping phlox of the rock garden. This is a splendid plant and may be grown in name varieties in shades of lavender, pink and white. Among the best kinds are: Vivid, rose with a carmine centre; Brightness, rose with a scarlet eye; Kitty, rose-lilac; Seraph, white with blue eye; and The Bride, white.

These Phloxes make wonderful drapery to hang over rocks, and are quite beautiful when in flower. After the flowering season is over their evergreen foliage is most attractive. They may be grown on the flat but the trailing habit of the plant is lost under such conditions.

One could make a whole garden of phloxes and have bloom most of the Summer.

DAMAGED SHIP NOW IN DRYDOCK

Tatjana Was Floated Into Esquimalt Drydock This Morning

The Norwegian freighter Tatjana entered drydock this morning for survey. The dock, however, will not be dry until late this evening, so survey will not commence until early to-morrow morning when the extent of damage done to her when she stranded in Village Island can be ascertained. She has a big hole under No. 4 hatch.

Yarrows report the Mina Brea due here at 3 o'clock this afternoon for new propeller blades, rigging and general repairs. The local yard is casting blades and will instal them as soon as the Mina Brea can be hauled out on the cradle. She will be here about five days undergoing repairs.

The freighter Camelia Gilbert, which was here for two days undergoing general repairs, left Saturday night for the Fraser River Mills, where she will load for New York, Antwerp and the United Kingdom. King Brothers handled the vessel while she was in port.

At the V.M.D. work on the whalers is progressing favorably. The Grant and the Blue are both on the ways. The Blue will have two new plates, in addition to having her tail shaft drawn and other underwater repairs.

ADMIRAL MARVELL HERE FROM CAVITE

American Naval Commander to Take Over Command of U.S. Base Fleet

Admiral George R. Marvell, U.S.N., the American naval base at Cavite, for the past two years in charge of Philippine Islands, arrived here on Saturday by the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson from the Orient en route to Los Angeles. Admiral Marvell stated on his arrival that he expected to take command of the base squadron of the United States fleet. He is being succeeded at Cavite by Captain George Laws, U.S.N.

During the Great War Admiral Marvell was captain of the American battleship Louisiana, chiefly engaged in convoy work.

While in port on Saturday afternoon Admiral and Mrs. Marvell were taken on an automobile tour of the city as the guests of Capt. Francis R. Nichols, commander of the President Jefferson.

JUVENILE MAKES WORLD TOUR ON EMPRESS OF CANADA

IRIS JOHNSON

Four-year-old Iris Johnson, daughter of H. S. Johnson, a prominent member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, concluded a trip around the world on her arrival here on the liner Empress of Australia. She left Victoria on the Empress of Canada last January 4 and transferred to the Australia at Hongkong when it was found necessary for her father to return at once to Winnipeg. Iris, when asked which cities of the world she preferred, singled out Bombay, Naples, Shanghai and Victoria for special mention. But, having seen them all, she still claimed allegiance to Winnipeg.

JEFFERSON LOWERS OWN SAILING TIME

Reached Quarantine 3 o'Clock Saturday After Speedy Passage

In making William Head at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson, Captain F. R. Nichols, reduced her own speed record, thus making the fastest voyage from the Orient that she has ever made in three years.

Throughout the entire trip she averaged 18.01 knots an hour. Her previous best time was 17.8 knots an hour.

The Jefferson left Yokohama breakwater at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of May 1 and reached quarantine at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

After discharging 600 tons of cargo here the liner left at 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

TURPEL'S MARINE RAILWAY SECURES PONTOON CONTRACT

Will Build Landing Pontoon For New Ferry Slip in Inner Harbor

Joshua Green, president of the Puget Sound Navigation Co. of Seattle, was in the city to-day to look over the work being done on the new ferry slip in the Inner Harbor by Herman Hoagland, the contractor. The Turpel Marine Railway Company has been given the contract to build the pontoon to be used as a landing platform for the cars from the ferry Olympic. The pontoon will be twenty-four feet by twenty-six feet. The pontoon system is being used so as to provide an easy driveway from the ferry boat to the landing stage. The pontoon, rising and falling with the tide, will always be on a level with the ship's automobile deck.

Other work underway at Turpel's yard is the overhauling of one of the Victoria Tug Company's scows and the construction of a large scow for the same company.

Establishes New Record For Osaka Shosen Kaisha Liners

Docked This Morning With 256 Passengers and 3,000 Tons of Cargo

Creating a new speed record for the Osaka Shosen Kaisha the Arizona Maru, Captain T. Yamaguchi, docked at the Outer Wharf this morning from the Orient at 9 o'clock, completing her trip exactly thirty hours ahead of schedule. She left Yokohama at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of April 30 and was not scheduled to arrive until 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

She average 14.2 knots an hour during the entire trip, and by doing so not only broke the record for O.S.K. transpacific liners, but also reduced her previous speed record of 13.6 knots an hour. Favorable weather is attributed to the success of the fast trip.

A total of 256 passengers were brought in on the Arizona Maru. Of this number 100 debarked here. Among the saloon passengers debarking here was Dr. Alan Richardson, retired medical man, who has just returned from a visit to the Orient. For the United States there were thirty-nine first saloon, seventy second class and forty-seven third class.

Among the second class passengers was a party of six men, headed by Captain Yinsen, part of the crew of the freighter Unita, which has been chartered for service in the Chinese coastwise freight service. They left on the Unita from Seattle January 29 and after delivering the cargo and then the steamer to her charterers, boarded the Arizona Maru for home.

Thirty-three tons were discharged here; 103 tons are for Seattle, 143 tons for Vancouver and 2,184 tons for Tacoma. For discharge at Seattle, in addition to the regular consignment of general cargo, was a silk shipment totaling 2,278 bales. A feature of the Tacoma cargo was 530 tons of wood oil inbulk.

Mail landed here amounted to nine bags, while for Seattle there were 140 bags.

FILIPINOS NOT QUALIFIED TO RUN OWN GOVERNMENT

Are Economically and Politically Unfitted, Says Judge Crossfield

Thinks President Coolidge Will Have Little Opposition

"I don't think they will get it," stated Judge A. S. Crossfield, Republican delegate to the Cleveland Convention for the Philippine Islands, when asked what he thought about the Filipinos' demand for independence. Judge Crossfield has been in the Philippines twenty-five years, and passed through Victoria aboard the liner President Jefferson, en route to the convention, which is to be held on June 10.

The judge followed up his statement by saying: "The United States has taken over the Philippines, and is bound to make it a self-supporting country. It will be to its credit if the United States refuses independence. Should the Filipinos succeed in their demand there is no question that it would be their ruin, for that is what would happen if left to their own devices. They are not qualified economically or politically to operate a government, which would be satisfactory to the United States, or any other nation which might have business with them."

Speaking of the coming nominating convention Judge Crossfield stated, "undoubtedly President Coolidge will be nominated."

"Senors Roxas and Quezon are at Washington shouting their heads off for independence for the Philippines, but the very freedom they are clamoring for is the last thing in the world they want," Captain H. L. Heath, president of the American Chamber of Commerce of the Philippines, stated after his arrival from Manila on the President Jefferson.

Captain Heath heads a delegation of three from the Chamber of Commerce charged with the mission of fighting the campaign for independence at Washington being waged by two Filipino missions, both of which passed through the city recently. Captain Heath represents American residents in the Philippines.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.
